

It Looks as if HEW Veto May Stick

WASHINGTON (AP) — Key Republicans in today's House vote to override President Nixon's veto of the $19.7 billion health-education bill sought last-minute assurances the administration would come up with an acceptable alternative.

An Associated Press poll prior to this afternoon's scheduled vote showed many of the 86 GOP representatives who voted for the bill when it passed the House Dec. 22 awaited such assurances before deciding which way to go.

Of 80 Republicans reached, 36 said they were awaiting the administration's alternative plan; 26 said they would vote to sustain the veto and 18 said they would vote to override.

Republican leaders had said they were confident they had the 145 votes to defeat the attempt to override if all House members vote.

Democrats said even if they lost the battle they still would make the bill a major campaign issue in the November elections. Leaders of both sides said the end result would be good for them at the polls.

Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., said Tuesday the White House had agreed to accept a $442 million funding level in a new bill for the crucial impact aid section allocating funds to school districts which have heavy enrollments because of federal installations.

Nixon, in vetoing the bill, told the nation Monday the $1.2 billion more than he requested in the measure was inflationary. He took special aim at $600 million for the impact aid when health authorities warned research programs would be crippled.

"The wrong amount for the wrong purpose and at the wrong time," he said.

The President originally proposed $202 million for the impact aid.

Republican congressmen went into the vote torn between loyalty to the GOP president and pressure from home for the health and education funds as provided in the $19.7 billion measure. School officials said the veto could cause havoc and able to upset the Nixon veto. The former vice president and Nixon's opponent in 1968, said he didn't think the bill had anything to do with inflation.

Senate Republicans watched today's vote closely, hoping the House would sustain the veto and thus save them the agony of voting on it. The measure had passed the House 261-110 in December and the Senate 74-17 last week.

A two-thirds vote in each house is required to override a veto, making it unnecessary for the one chamber to vote on the matter if the other house sustains the President.

In the House, Republican leaders not only had their 188 members as potential votes against overriding the President, they also could draw on the group of southern congressmen who don't like a provision in the bill designed to preserve the government's authority to desegregate schools.

There were indications before today's vote that if the veto were sustained, other increases besides the additional impact aid acceptable to the White House would be added to a new bill by the House.

The White House reportedly was willing to accept at least $70 million more than budgeted for vocational education. Democrats laid plans to put back at least part of the funds for some other programs in the vetoed bill.

According to the United Press, presidents frequently veto bills passed by Congress. Rarely do their actions make any headlines since usually no effort is made to pass the affected bill over the veto.

The veto that made the biggest news in recent times was President Harry S. Truman's when Congress passed the Taft-Hartley labor law in 1947. He called it antilabor. But the House voted 331 to 83 to pass the bill over the veto, the Senate approved the action 68 to 25, and the bill became law.

Congress' most recent effort to override a Presidential veto came in June, 1969, on a bill to raise federal pay. Again the necessary two-thirds vote of those present and voting was supplied by both House and Senate and the bill became law, despite President Dwight D. Eisenhower's objections.

Supreme Court Nominee — Committee Quiz Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge G. Harrold Carswell says he never has and never will accept fees for off-the-bench activities and if confirmed as a Supreme Court justice would willingly disclose his financial affairs.

The federal appeals court judge was closely questioned about his views of judicial ethics and race during Tuesday's opening Senate Judiciary Committee hearings into his high court nomination.

Carswell, who was called back for another round of questioning today, told the senators he "definitely" thought the same standards should apply to

Supreme Court justices as to all other federal judges.

At the start of the hearings, the 50-year-old southerner, confirmed by the Senate last June as a judge on the 5th U.S. Court of Appeals, swore he is no racist.

"I have no notions, secretive, open or otherwise, of racial superiority," he testified in repudiating a 1948 political speech supporting white supremacy.

Carswell said he wouldn't expect the committee to vote for his confirmation if the members thought he harbored ideas of that kind.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., in raising questions of judicial ethics, told Carswell he wanted to know what his standards would be "if your nomination is confirmed, which I think it will be."

Bayh, who led the fight against Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., President Nixon's first nominee for the Supreme Court post, later told newsmen his comment didn't necessarily mean he was going to vote for Carswell.

Carswell, who lives in Tallahassee, Fla., was nominated by Nixon Jan. 19 for the Supreme Court seat vacated by Abe Fortas last May.

Haynsworth, rejected by the Senate 55 to 45 last November, not only had stiff labor and civil rights opposition but also was pictured by Bayh and others as giving an appearance of impropriety because of stock transactions while on the bench.

Carswell, also opposed by labor and civil rights groups, testified he owns no stocks or bonds and told the committee that "certainly a judge should not sit in a case where there is an appearance of impropriety."

When asked about a country club in Tallahassee that took over a public golf course and kept it segregated after a 1955 Supreme Court decision requiring desegregation of public recreation facilities, Carswell said he took no part in its affairs.

He at first testified he had never been a director or other officer of the club and had not been one of its incorporators, but he later agreed under questioning by Sen. Edward M. Ken-

Rocky For the Veto Now

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — Governor Rockefeller has done an abrupt about face and said President Nixon had "no alternative" but to veto the $19.7 billion Health, Education and Welfare appropriations bill.

"There isn't the money to pay for it, and it could be a disaster," Rockefeller told reporters Tuesday.

But only last Wednesday the governor wrote the President a two page letter urging him to sign the measure.

"Human resources programs, especially education, must be regarded as of the highest priority for federal expenditures," Rockefeller said in the letter.

"If it appears that total federal spending will have an inflationary impact, other lower priority areas should be looked to for adjustments to allow the needed expenditures for education."

After the veto, Rockefeller placed the blame on Congress.

"Congress was less than fully responsible in what they did, because they cut taxes and then voted increased expenditures," the governor said. "In view of the tax cut, and the resulting loss of revenues, the President had no alternative but to veto this bill."

Rockefeller's support of the Nixon Administration, even on an issue that might have an adverse effect on New York State, was typical of a new warmth between Albany and Washington.

The governor's motives have been interpreted as partly political. He is apparently making every attempt to bury old personal animosities between himself and Nixon. In addition, the governor wants New York to be first in line when and if Washington approves an expanded program of federal revenue sharing with the states.

Disease Test at Lab — County to Again Pay Tab

By JEAN F. DOLAN

KINGSTON City Laboratory tests for communicable diseases will once again be underwritten by the Ulster County Health Department according to decision reached this week by members of the health department and the county legislature public health committee.

The county health department had withdrawn financial support of environmental tests and all communicable disease tests performed at City Laboratory as of Jan. 1. State facilities were to process the tests at no cost other than postage or transportation for specimens.

Environmental tests including water, soil, air pollution and milk sanitation were shifted to the state facility at Syracuse. This practice will be continued as there is no immediate danger to public health in these test areas.

Under the previous arrangement with City Lab, the county health agency also paid for all tuberculosis, venereal disease, and typhoid tests plus pre-employment and pre-natal Wassermann and pre-natal RH factor tests.

Special

According to Melvin Mones, chairman of the public health committee of the county legislature, the TB, VD and typhoid testing will now be resumed at county health department expense. Dropped from the list will be the Wassermann and RH tests. These will be paid for by the patient.

Mones noted that investigation and follow-up of positive cases in the Wassermann tests would be picked up by the county health department as a community health commitment.

The testing decisions grow out of complaints from the Ulster County Medical Society, which contended that some of the tests would be continued at county expense rather than patient expense because of their public health nature. Unlike the environmental tests they required immediate results and immediate action for the good of the community.

With less than a month of no county financing for local tests, City Lab, Medical Society, health department officials and the public health committee of the legislature met last week to review the situation. The compromise was worked out by the health department and the county legislature committee earlier this week.

Medical society and city lab personnel will be informed of the revision of the testing financing by letter from the health department.

Dr. Herber Derman, director of City Lab, said that approximately $42,000 had been charged up to the county last year for environmental tests while approximately $32,000 was for other county-financed public health tests. During 1969, tests were performed for tuberculosis, 700; syphilis, 5,700; gonorrhea, 5,700; typhoid and dysentery, 600 and pre-natal RH 1,900.

Mones, in detailing the reasons for reversal of the complete withdrawal of county financing from city lab, said that it was felt the cost of pre-natal tests for both Wassermann and RH was not prohibitive for the individual patient and were just part of good obstetrical practice. He noted that most of these patients were covered by some form of medical plan which reimbursed them for the $5.50 total for the two tests. He also pointed out the saving for the county in terms of public health was a possible 200 positive cases out of 8,000 tests in the Wassermann which would require follow up investigation to the total cost of all the tests under the previous arrangement with the city-based facility.

Meanwhile, Dr. Derman said that City Lab has not curtailed its services in any way and continued to conduct testing throughout the month of cut-off funds with patients picking up the tab.

He said that the lab, had continued to perform medical legal services for the county in supplying autopsy information and assisting county coroners.

The Infirmary Grant A Very Low $300,000

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON A disappointing $300,000 instead of an anticipated $1 million federal grant for the Ulster County Infirmary was announced today.

According to the offices of Senators Jacob K. Javits and Charles E. Goodell, Ulster will receive the $300,000 under the Hill-Burton grant. Eligibility for such funds ranges up to $3 million.

Although the Ulster County Legislature voted unanimously to construct the $4,720,300 infirmary on Golden Hill in September of 1968—even before it knew federal funds were available, the announced $300,000 is a far cry from the $1 million it was led to believe was possible to secure.

When making application for the federal funds, indications were that the county would also receive $1,573,610 from the State leaving a balance of $2,147,200 as the county's share.

Sen. Goodell's office, in revealing the amount of the federal grant did indicate that it is possible to make subsequent applications for more money.

Infirmary Project Director Peter J. Savago (Chairman of the County Legislature) was not able to be reached this morning at the time of the announcement. Ulster County Legislature Clerk of the Board, Edward W. Snyder commented that the news was disappointing—if true.

Bids for construction of the three-story, 200-bed nursing facility are due to go out shortly. A meeting of the architects, engineers, members of the building committee, Social Services Commissioner Joseph Fitzsimmons and Savago has been called for Thursday night to go over last minute details.

With the use of federal and state funds, the Infirmary when completed, will operate in full compliance with Title Six of the Federal Civil Rights Act of 1964 which means the facility will accept anyone regardless of race, creed or religion.

Fish Sets Yes Vote On the Veto

WASHINGTON Congressmen Hamilton Fish Jr. told The Freeman he will vote to sustain President Nixon's veto of the $19.7 billion health-education bill.

In spite of the fact that he voted twice for the full bill, Fish said his action now represents the feelings of the people of the 28th District whom he represents. Deluged with phone calls and messages at all his district offices since the presidential veto, Fish said his constituents "are running 20-1 in favor of sustaining the veto."

The congressman's office told The Freeman that Fish regretted that the President found it necessary to veto the bill but that in the President's message to Congress and in talks with the White House "there are clear indications that a good compromise would be reached in the area of necessary and essential spending."

Fish's office also indicated that the 28th District is barely affected by proposed cuts in education aid to impacted areas.

Among telegrams received by Fish was one from Dr. John J. Neumaier, president of State University College at New Paltz, in which he states that President Nixon's veto "is a serious blow to prospects and aspirations of young Americans in this area and throughout the country."

"I wish I could be there to lend you my support in your persistent efforts to pass this important measure and gold ring with two imitation pearls on her right ring finger. I concluded."

Possible Homicide Probed in Dutchess

By WALTER S. CLARK

DOVER PLAINS Authorities from two states assisted by the Dutchess County district attorney's staff today sought to uncover clues that would lead to the identification of a woman who may have been murdered and left under a bridge on a Town of North East highway.

Top ranking officials of the New York and Connecticut State Police pressed the probe which began Tuesday immediately after a construction worker reported to authorities that he had observed the body of a fully-clothed white woman covered with a bedspread beneath the span of Smithfield Road (County Rt. 5).

Assistant County Medical Examiner Dr. Michael Badeen of Millerton, made preliminary examination of the body and ordered the body removed to Vassar Hospital for a post-mortem scheduled today.

Captain Richard Boland, in charge of Troop K, BCI division, who is directing the investigation with Major C. Richard Sampson, said investigators were hopeful of establishing positive identity of the victim of the homicide later today.

The victim had natural red hair and her face is freckled, authorities said.

Asked about an unofficial report the woman might be a resident of Ulster County, an officer remarked, "We don't know at this time."

Meanwhile, records were being checked of missing persons in the Mid-Hudson Valley.

District Attorney Albert Rosenblatt has assigned an assistant, Joseph Spiegel to work with key investigators on the baffling case.

BCI Investigator Richard Cobey described the victim as a white, about 35 years of age, 5 feet, 3 inches tall and weight 130 pounds. She was wearing a blue sweater, green slacks, black socks and one shoe size 7 is missing. Troopers also said the woman had no upper teeth when found. She also wore a gold ring with two imitation pearls on her right ring finger.

Brett Recommends Mandatory Sprinklers for Institutions

KINGSTON — Fire Chief James M. Brett has recommended that the Common Council enact mandatory legislation requiring all hospitals, schools, nursing homes, places of detention and other institutions having a high life hazard potential, to install a complete automatic sprinkler system connected to the municipal fire alarm system.

The recommendation was one of five made by Brett in his annual report to the Board of Fire Commissioners released today.

Other recommendations by the fire chief involved fire hydrant markers, enactment of a fire prevention code, the filling of existing vacancies in the department and the purchase of property as a site for the present Wiltwyck station when it is moved from Fair Street.

Contending that legislation requiring complete automatic sprinkler systems "would create no great hardships on the institutions so affected, the fire chief cited two reasons:

- The majority of such institutions in the city already have such protection.
- This protection actually entails no additional expense to these institutions over a period of time. The fact of the matter is if the institution is properly insured the reduced premium will not only pay for the entire installation but show a generous profit through the years. This latter statement, Brett noted, can be easily verified by consulting with the officials of those institutions which already have this type of protection.

Chief Brett also recommended and "strongly urged" that the city purchase a suitable piece of property, strategically located, as a site for a fire station when circumstances compel the removal of the present Wiltwyck fire station. He suggested that the property purchase be made immediately "because of the scarcity of suitable locations" left in the uptown area now covered by equipment from the Fair Street station.

Brett urged that the uptown station should be moved because of the impossible "traffic impediment" existing on Fair Street when stores are open and because of a proposed conversion of Wall and North Front Streets to a pedestrian mall.

The chief further suggested that three vacancies in the department be filled to maintain balanced platoons and to compensate for the additional time off granted in 1970, of

Clean Air Committee Meets Jan. 29

The Ulster County Citizens' Committee for Clean Air will hold a planning meeting at City Hall, Broadway, Kingston, Thursday Jan. 29 at 8 p. m.

Members and interested persons are urged to attend. A planning committee will be appointed at this time and a new slate of officers will be nominated.

KINGSTON — Melvin Mones, Republican city chairman, will convene the full city committee for the first time since before the November, 1969, elections tonight at 8 o'clock in the Ulster County Office Building on Fair Street.

The appointment of Marshall C. Lipton, a Main Street attorney, as counsel to the Republican members of the Common Council, is expected to be announced at the meeting.

Also on the agenda, according to Mones, is the appointment of "seven or eight" new ward committeemen. The new committeemen will either fill vacancies or replace those members of the city GOP Committee who have resigned since the elections.

Another topic of discussion will be party fund-raising activities for the coming year. Also on the agenda is a review of candidates for the posts of state senator, assemblyman, congressman and county district attorney.

Lipton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lipschutz of 270 Fair Street. He is a graduate of St. Lawrence University and Albany Law School, class of 1969.

A Caution for Taxpayers in Saugerties

SAUGERTIES

Saugerties Central School District officials cautioned taxpayers today that they will face an estimated tax increase of $36.14 per $1,000 of assessed valuation next year if the State Legislature fails to repeal current formulas for state aid to schools.

This year's basic school tax rate for most property owners in the district is $118.78, which was an increase of $5.55 over last year.

To further public awareness of what is described as "the financial difficulties facing New York schools, the Board of Education, the P.T.A. and school administrators have arranged public meetings with taxpayers in three areas of the district.

The first meeting is scheduled 7:30 tonight at Mt. Marion School. Other meetings are scheduled Tuesday at Main Street School and Thursday, Feb. 12 at the Grant D. Morse School, Blue Mountain, all at 7:30. Officials are urging taxpayers to bring writing materials to let legislators know public reaction.

The figures released by the school board are based on expected budget expenses for next year and the best estimates available.

The board in a release today said in order to avoid this anticipated school tax increase next year, it will be necessary to repeal Chapter 183 of the Laws of 1969. The figures show estimated losses under the law of $59,262 for operating aid; $4,741 growth aid; $8,690 building aid; $54,957 transportation and $79,230 size correction.

There would be a gain in BOCES aid of $8,462 leaving a net loss of $198,418 reflecting in the estimated $36.14 increase in the 1971 tax rate.

The local school board noted that the Educational Conference Board has estimated that state legislation adopted last year will reduce state aid to education by $217 million. Budget recommendations made recently by Governor Rockefeller if enacted fail to suggest repeal of the law mandating the cuts in aid, which according to school officials will place a greater burden on the taxpayer for the 1970-1971 school year.

School officials emphasized early action to pressure the State Legislature to repeal the cutback law because of reports that the legislature anticipates early adjournment, possibly by Easter.

In another financial matter, the Board of Education met in a four-hour session Monday night to compare the cost of education here with the 47 other school districts in the Mid-Hudson School Study Council.

The board looked over recent studies of the 1969-1970 salaries and property tax rates on true value.

Teachers, coordinators and administrators are currently studying budget requests for the 1970-1971 school year. These will be presented for approval of the school board.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Dexter O. Arnold requested that those responsible for preparation of the requests for various departments be prepared to justify them in terms of the value of the programs and material to the pupils.

He said, "We operate on the premise that Saugerties taxpayers wish to provide our pupils with a quality educational program but wish to keep costs as low as possible. This means that we must strive to operate efficiently and effectively. We are regularly called upon to make value judgments and all instructional personnel need to raise the question. Is this proposed expenditure worthwhile? Our costs per pupil have been and are extremely low which indicates that we are achieving our goals," the administrator said.

$30,000 Loss in Dutchess Fire

By WALTER S. CLARK

HYDE PARK market at 7 p.m. yesterday and everything was in order at that hour. Investigators from the Dutchess county sheriff's office launched a probe seeking to uncover the origin of a fire that destroyed the Sunny Ridge Farm Market on Albany Post Road in this township.

John J. Gaffney Jr., of Tillson shortly after 3:30 a.m., when Avenue, Highland, a co-owner a motorist, Edward Trowbridge and operator of the business, of Lemon Lane, Rhinebeck, reportedly estimated the loss in drove up and said he saw a neighborhood of $30,000. He red glow in the back of the told deputy sheriffs and fire market as he passed.

Gaffney sped to the scene and discovered flames sweeping through the long one-story structure. He hurriedly sounded an alarm.

Fire Chief Ken Underwood responded with 55 men and five vehicles including the emergency truck. "On arrival the fire was raging on the north end of the building in the area of the furnace and refrigeration unit," the chief said.

Several hoses were pressed into service as firefighters battled the flames that spread rapidly across the ceiling. During the fire Roosevelt Fire Company was on standby alert at the Hyde Park Fire Station.

Borchers said that Deputy Gaffney had checked the market about 15 minutes before the fire was discovered, and the deputy saw no sign of fire.

Chief Underwood said the Gaffney, well known political figure in Ulster County for many years and former Democratic supervisor of the Town of Lloyd. The elder Gaffney operates the Sunny Ridge Farm Market at the Highland traffic circle site.

Planning Board Nominees Await Legislature Approval

KINGSTON Town of Rochester Planning Board, who will represent the Village of New Paltz. Another resolution concerning Ulster County Comprehensive Planning Assistance Program also will be submitted by Noe who asks that the county authorize its participation in the second phase.

The measure asks specifically that the County Legislature request the New York State Office of Planning, Coordination and Housing Development, Ulster County's share of the cost would be about $30,100. The estimated cost of the entire Phase II program is $89,700 to be used for such things as aerial photos, studies in conjunction with soils, transportation, housing elements, parks, economic factors, public information, coordination, model subdivision regulations, application reviews and other areas.

The names of four men to serve as members of the Ulster County Planning Board will be submitted to the Ulster County Legislature for approval at its next meeting.

Named in the resolution to be submitted by County Legislator Eugene Noe (R-Dist. 9) are Wilbur R. Peters, division manager, Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp., who will represent the Town of Hurley; provide planning assistance and John Scribano, chairman of the

Sen. Goodell to Speak In Ellenville Feb. 8

Son of Filipino Politico Abducts Coast Girl

MANILA (UPI)—The son of a night, fired two shots and search for Deborah Stevenson, nephew of a governor and a Roman Catholic school in screaming from the building, lunch room, dragged her out of pines, Miss Soledad Lavadia, prominent Filipino politician dragged away a pretty Calif. 20, of South San Francisco, and congressman. Quezon City, and police said. No one was hurt. described Lecaroz as a quiet youth who nevertheless might have been a victim of a violent abduction, her suspected abductor, Cris Lecaroz, 20, son of a mayor and dormitory at Maryknoll College, shots that sent other students fleeing in the official police report. Miss Stevenson.

Would Lessen 'Roommate' Drug Penalty

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate considers today a "college roommate" amendment designed to lessen penalties for the youth who gives his pal a marijuana cigarette. Even without the Hughes amendments, the bill would sharply reduce sentences for selling or using drugs from marijuana to heroin. The Nixon administration has endorsed the bill and Senate leaders of both parties predicted overwhelming passage, probably Thursday. The Senate voted Tuesday to toughen enforcement by giving law officers authority to barge in on suspected "pushers" and make raids without warning. It defeated, 44 to 40, a "right of privacy" amendment to table the whole notion of no-warnings, and (50 to 35) an amendment to spell out guidelines for six months for distributing a small amount of marijuana to one's own use and for no remuneration or for insignificant remuneration not involving a profit. A second vote today or Thursday, would impose a maximum jail sentence of six months for conviction penalty for marijuana possession to six months, and for selling marijuana to a second conviction of marijuana or narcotics possession, and for the first conviction would carry a Hughes' proposed changes, a judge could impose fines rather than jail terms, and could suspend jail sentences or grant probation. Under present law, jail sentences are mandatory for a second conviction of marijuana or narcotics possession, and for the first conviction of selling an outlawed drug.

Air Force Looks Into Fuel Crashes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Air Force planes have been running out of gas and crashing and the top Air Force general says it looks to him like "a lack of professionalism and discipline." As a result, Gen. John D. Ryan, Air Force chief of staff, has cracked down with orders to tighten up on supervision. "Recent accidents and incidents caused by fuel depletion indicate a lack of professionalism and discipline," Ryan said in a message to all major commands. Fuel depletion is a euphemism for running out of gas. Ryan said "these occurrences have included all models of aircraft from fighter to four-engine jet aircraft" and have occurred under conditions involving both visual and instrument flight conditions. "Adequate operational supervision would have prevented the loss of these aircraft," Ryan said. Air Force officers said Ryan appeared to be leveling criticism at base operations officers and squadron commanders, among others. Ryan's statement came just over two weeks after his own son, Capt. John D. Ryan Jr., 29, was killed when his F4 fighter-bomber crashed on take off from Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif. The plane has been recovered from San Pablo Bay, and there has been no official report on the cause of the crash.

UC Savings Reports Its Best Increase

KINGSTON—Howard C. St. John, president of the Ulster County Savings Bank, at the recent annual meeting made known the largest dollar increase in the bank's history, noting that assets had increased more than $5 million during 1969.

St. John also announced that the bank had made record gains in two other areas, with the largest annual increase in surplus and undivided profits and a $6 million increase in mortgage portfolio, which was also the largest in the bank's history.

St. John noted that 10 years ago the assets of Ulster Savings totaled $28,284,358. Closing figures for 1969 showed total assets of $67,007,722, up $5,131,238 from the 1968 figure of $61,876,484.

"This record showing," St. John pointed out, "was made in spite of the adverse conditions under which savings banks had to operate in 1969, and reflects great credit on the efforts of the employees, and the Board of Trustees. It is also a measure of the support which our depositors and customers have given us. Be assured that we shall strive to continue to merit that support in the decade ahead—a decade which I am confident will continue the healthy growth of 'Ulster Savings.'"

Re-elected as officers of the Ulster County Savings Bank were: Howard C. St. John, president; Alfred Schmid, vice president; Joseph A. Fassbender, vice president and treasurer; George L. Barry, assistant vice president; Colleen R. Crespinio, assistant vice president; Roberta A. Riel, assistant treasurer; Alton C. Blackwell, assistant mortgage officer; Irving H. Roth, secretary; J. Kotrady, auditor; and Howard C. St. John, attorney.

Trustees of Ulster County Savings Bank are: Harry J. Beatty, Joseph P. Benjamin, Harold S. Brigham, Francis H. Delaney, Roscoe V. Elsworth, Gilbert F. Hoppenstedt, Christus Larios, Robert B. O'Reilly, Victor H. Roth, Howard C. St. John, Alfred Schmid, Herman C. Schwenk, James A. Simpson, Francis X. Tucker.

New Positions Created At 1st Federal S-L

KINGSTON—Two new positions were created at the organizational meeting of the board of directors of First Federal Savings and Loan Association held recently.

William D. Costello was named vice president in charge of operations and William F. Paulus was named vice president in charge of mortgage lending.

Officers re-elected were: Deweese W. DeWitt, president; Costello, secretary; Paulus, treasurer; Jane K. Murphy, assistant secretary and manager of the Hyde Park office; Julia Palmer, assistant secretary and manager of the Central Broadway Office.

Officers of the board re-elected were John B. Sterly, chairman; Harry Halverson, first vice chairman; George C. Swart, second vice chairman and Robert A. MacKinnon, secretary to the board. Sterly was reappointed counsel.

Robert E. Deitrick will assume the office of president on April 1 and will continue in that office when the name is changed to Hudson Valley Federal Savings and Loan Association and the Beacon Savings and Loan Association is merged into First Federal. He will be based at the Kingston office.

Pair of Promotions Announced by IBM

KINGSTON—Officials of International Business Machines Corporation have announced two promotions.

Eugene M. Thomas has been promoted to senior programmer in the Kingston Laboratory of IBM's Systems Development Division, according to Joseph L. Brown, director of the laboratory.

George D. Craigmile has been promoted to manager of Financial Analysis for IBM's Boca Raton, Florida and Rochester, Minn. Development Laboratories.

Thomas joined IBM in June 1957 as a junior engineer at the Poughkeepsie plant. After several promotions to other positions, he returned to Kingston as an advisory programmer in the display programming area and subsequently he became a development programmer and display programming advanced technology manager in November, 1967, a post he held until his recent promotion.

Craigmile, who was controller for the Kingston Laboratory of IBM's Systems Development Division, will now be located at the company's data processing group headquarters in Harrison. He joined IBM in May 1960 as a financial planner, and after several promotions he was promoted in June 1966, to controller in the Kingston laboratory, a post he held until this promotion.

Craigmile attended the University of California at Los Angeles and earned a bachelor of science degree in business administration from the University of San Francisco. Craigmile, his wife, Frances and the couple's two children reside in Woodstock.

Home Owners' New Service

BLOOMINGTON—Norman Tierney of "Norm's Repair & Maintenance Service," Norm Tierney resides in Bloomington with his wife, the former Marjorie Felton and their two children Pat and Doug. During the past years he has been associated with Troop 12 Boy Scouts, Hurley Lions Club and he is an active member of the United Reformed Church of Rosendale and the Bloomington Fire Company. His headquarters is located in this community.

Oscar Candidates
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences has announced 334 feature-length motion pictures qualified for Oscar consideration in 1969.

The total number of films meeting Academy requirements was the highest in nine years. Last year 315 films were eligible.

Eligible films and performances will be voted on for nomination to be announced Feb. 16. Winners of the awards will be televised nationally in the 42nd annual presentation ceremonies April 7.

Grier Asks Divorce
LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Roosevelt Grier, former Los Angeles Rams football tackle turned television personality, petitioned Superior Court Monday to dissolve his marriage.

Grier, 37, married his wife Bernice, 37, Feb. 2, 1962 in Montclair, N.J. They separated one year ago and have no children. Grier cited "irreconcilable difference" in asking for the divorce.

Ailing Soviet Economy

In a world in which competition is strong, the confession of the Soviet leadership—that the economy of their country is ailing—can have political and economic meaning for this country. Political, because an ailing economy is a poor base for expansion in military and other competitive fields.

Where we are deliberately cooling our economy to slow it down and reduce the prosperity-created inflation, the Soviets are worried about the shortfalls in their economy and are straining for more, not less, production.

They cite shortcomings in capital construction, where investments have been "dissipated", budget allowances have been exceeded and administrative and other "unproductive units" have been built on a wide scale. In other words, the bureaucrats have been fattening their own positions, not the production lines entrusted to them.

From the American viewpoint, this ailing economy is another front on which the Soviets have become exposed. They are fighting in the eastern front, where they are making no headway trying to negotiate an agreement with Communist China on their massive frontier. And an ailing economy is no help in case there is serious fighting there.

As we have repeatedly said, we will not take advantage of the situation. We wish no ill to either of the Communist giants. But we would be remiss not to recognize their dilemmas, and seize the opportunity to remove the obstacles to honest agreements between us. That is just what our government is doing. The outlook is good in negotiating with both these great powers. We can reduce our defense expenditures, as we are doing, if we had less to fear, but we still must "beware of" Reds, even those "bearing gifts" of big troubles.

Delinquency Control

For 25 years, the Delinquency Control Institute of the School of Public Administration at the University of Southern California has been helping those who deal with the juvenile delinquent to know more about him. Recently, a new ingredient was added. An intensive 12-week inter-disciplinary course was set up for police on the psychology, sociology, and practical and legal problem of delinquents and delinquency.

This new course is given at the Ventura County model of the DCI, at Ventura College. Here, however, the officers supplement their classroom learning with personal visits to places involved in the delinquents and delinquency—with educators, probation officers, doctors, lawyers, welfare workers, at their offices, at hospitals, mental institutions, and at the "schools" to which the delinquents are confined.

This is the home front of delinquency control. This is where all the learning is applied, discussed, argued over. It is an enlightening process. Law enforcement officers get a new understanding of their work. Delinquents get the law enforcement officers viewpoint. It is too early to judge, but this new approach is promising at least. For the police, it is no longer simply an arrest of a wayward boy. For the boy, it can be the beginning of a new way of life.

Why so many mayors "ride the fence" was seen in the booing and chanting directed at newly elected Democrat Peter Flaherty at his installation in Pittsburgh. Flaherty had yielded to civil rights groups and fired James W. Slusser as police superintendent because he had acted tough during demonstrations for hiring more negroes at construction sites where trouble had boiled up. Members of the Teamsters' Union did the booing. It's getting so a poor mayor doesn't know where to turn.

David Lawrence Says Segregation Was Law When Carswell Addressed Legion

WASHINGTON — Why should Judge G. Harrold Carswell — who has been nominated for the Supreme Court of the United States — be criticized now for making a political speech in 1948 which was in accordance with "the law of the land" at that time? Millions of people have read the following quotation from an address by Mr. Carswell delivered to an American Legion audience on Aug. 2, 1948:

"I am a southerner by ancestry, birth, training, inclination, belief and practice. I believe that segregation of the races is proper and the only and correct way of life in our state. I have always so believed and I shall always so act."

But segregation was sanctioned by "the law of the land" in 1948, and it was not overturned until May 1954. Up until then, the Supreme Court in six decisions over a period of 75 years had upheld the doctrine of "separate but equal" facilities.

In the famous 1896 case known as Plessy v. Ferguson, until then, the Supreme Court ruled in Brown v. Board of Education that "separate educational facilities" are "inherently unequal" and unconstitutional.

Segregation was commonplace throughout the South in the years before 1954, and many states outside the South had had segregated schools for a long time. When the Supreme Court in 1896 declared that "separate but equal" was Constitutional, the South continued its segregated schools. Doubtless many speeches were made in 1948 and thereafter, along with that of Mr. Carswell, supporting the principle of what was then "the law of the land" with respect to segregation.

Mr. Carswell's speech was delivered while he was running for the Georgia legislature, six years before the Supreme Court handed down its desegregation ruling in 1954. Yet he has been condemned all over the country in recent days for expressing views on segregation which were in compliance with "the law of the land" when he spoke. Now — more than 21 years later — he has publicly repudiated the statement and says it is abhorrent to his personal philosophy. Various organizations nevertheless are trying to block his confirmation in the Senate on the ground that his speech in 1948 makes him ineligible for the high court.

To punish anybody today for upholding what was interpreted at the time as within the bounds of the Constitution is surprising. Undoubtedly it results from a failure to look up the record and read what happened prior to 1954 when the Supreme Court made its momentous decision ordering segregation in the public schools to be abolished.

Incidentally, when Senator Hugo L. Black of Alabama was nominated to be an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States by President Franklin D. Roosevelt on Aug. 12, 1937, some objection was raised to him because of his alleged membership in the Ku Klux Klan, but he was confirmed within five days. He subsequently acknowledged that he had once been a member of the Klan, but said that he had resigned from the organization and repudiated its purposes. Justice Black in 1954 joined with the other eight justices of the court in rendering a unanimous decision banning segregation in public schools.

Thurgood Marshall — an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States since 1967 and the first Negro to hold such an office — was one of the principal attorneys who argued the "desegregation" cases in 1954. He was chief counsel for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. But nobody has ever raised an objection in the high court to his having since decided cases which involved his former employer. Logically, there should be none, for he is a man of integrity.

Because a person at one time was identified with a company that has litigation before the court does not necessarily disqualify him. There are many people in Congress, however, who seem to feel that the judges should disqualify themselves when such cases arise. Perhaps the American Bar Association ought to draw up a set of rules which would clarify the whole problem.

apart, or working their way toward a separation.

Even worse are those who are fanatically trying to work out a respectable compromise, and who will not part because of "the children." It's like working a dead mine. They will not break, but they will not remain together.

Sadly, children always divine the truth in time. They are not grateful that their parents have lived out a lie. The worst aspect of children is that, sooner or later, they pick a side and remain in love with one parent. Conversely, they hate the other one.

Good lawyers, good judges, spend considerable time trying to patch humpty-dumpty together again. Where love is gone, there is no panacea. One character in the movie asked why we say: "FALL in love," like "A FALL from grace." No one can define love, much less inquire why it constitutes a fall.

One thing is certain: every female in the world is more sensitive to the delicate nuances of love — good and bad — than any man. She works at it before and after marriage. The average husband thinks that once he has heard the wedding bells, he is entitled to settle down to the let's-take-each-other-for-granted life. This is a bad no.

She desires to be romanced forever. He must win her again and again, but his virility seldom stands the strain. He quits. She pouts. He retreats into his world. She looks for a new, exciting one.

The Happy Ending, my eye...

Jack Anderson Says American Public Health Assn. Holds Back Damning Report

WASHINGTON — A bombshell report, held back by the American Public Health Association, accuses federal and local authorities alike of practicing "health brutality" against the poor.

This column has obtained a copy of the unreleased report, whose grim findings should be read by every concerned citizen.

"We are shocked and still reeling," begins the report by the association's president and immediate past president, Paul Cornely and Lester Breslow, both famed public health physicians.

In Houston, the space age city with renowned heart transplant facilities, the Cornely-Breslow team found neither space nor heart for Mexican-Americans.

The Houston authorities, in anticipation of the team's visit to the worst slum area, attempted to hastily clean-up and even ordered a rare garbage pick-up. But they could not hide the stooled, 59-year-old grandmother who had lost four of 12 children to malnutrition-induced diarrhea. Nor could they drive away the snakes and rats which prey on babies there.

Poisoning People
In Tulare County, Calif., poor whites and Mexican-Americans, too proud to go on relief, told of staggering in the fields as spray planes illegally speared pesticides on their heads. Some 200 workers are felled or sickened each year despite laws against spraying DDT and other poisons where people are working.

"I took the number of the plane and told the foreman. Nothing happened," said one worker. Another added wearily: "What's the use? They don't stop spraying."
Washington, D. C., with its shaded avenues and curving shorelines, is the nation's pride. But in the serene Potomac River, which gently washes Washington's shores, the doctors found "dead fish, floating sewage, rotting plant life... more than 400 million gallons of partially treated or raw sewage a day."

Untreated defecation, deadly salmonella and other disease debris are eaten by fish that swim up and down the Potomac and far beyond. Indeed, Dr. Werner Janssen, a scientist at the Chemical Biological Warfare Center of Ft. Detrick, Md., warned the team that the fish were like secret time bombs spreading "the human disease-producing organisms... to areas thought to be safe."

The report blames federal and local governments, along with land developers, for despoiling and poisoning such rivers as the Potomac.

In Chicago, Mayor Richard Daley's health commissioner snubbed the two distinguished presidents of the American Public Health Association. But they went down into the city's ghettos anyway.

Rot in Chicago
There they found, a few minutes from the multi-million dollar towers of the Windy City, "an unforgettable profile of destitution, deprivation, children amid rotting garbage and trash."

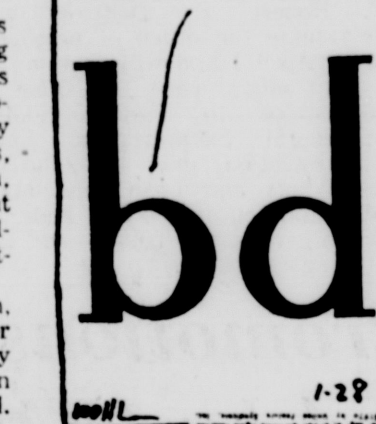

A Negro woman could not get repair of her abdominal surgery because she couldn't repay 11 pints of blood to a Cook County hospital. Another watched her baby die an agonized death for three hours while waiting treatment in the emergency room. Of every 1,000 children born, 45 die as babies in one area.

The most embittering chapter in the lengthy report dealt with the truly "forgotten man" — the Indian who leaves the reservation to make his way on the outside but who winds up in a red-man's ghetto.

In Great Falls, Mont., the doctors discovered "Hill 57"

Prenatal Influences Linked To Misfits Among Children

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The other day this reporter attended a meeting of doctors doing research on the things that happen to us while still in the womb awaiting birth.

Some of the medical men seemed to believe (quite strongly, in fact) that in large part, juvenile delinquency, sexual aberrations, psychoses, paranoid states and even crime may be caused by what we experience before we see daylight.

Some reported their studies and those of associates indicated that mothers "in severe emotional states" in the later months of pregnancy produce hyperactive, uncomfortable, poorly functioning, apprehensive children. (The unhappiness of the mothers in these cases was caused by some traumatic event, such as the death of a husband.)

The doctors found that sudden, unusual noises caused temporary rapid increases in the heartbeats of unborn infants. They noted evidence that a child repeatedly "started" while in the womb, at birth and subsequently often seemed to exhibit more "anxiety" than other children.

Because of the nature of the experiments, most were carried out with rats. Some doctors found that mother rats petted and fondled for 10 minutes three times a day during pregnancy were made so happy they produced baby rats that grew up with fewer anxieties than other rats seem to have.

One experimenter deliberately made a number of pregnant rats "neurotic" reward behavior with food sometimes and with electric shocks at others to confuse the rats and induce anxiety. Offspring he found were less willing to leave their cages and slower to explore new places than is considered normal.

One doctor noted that six million Americans are mentally retarded. The cause is known in 20 per cent of the cases, unknown in 80 per cent. Some doctors at these medical sessions believe that much of the retardation is caused by what happens to the unborn child during pregnancy.

Though no one knows, of course, what causes these unhappy results, it is known that such factors as noise, the mother's smoking, emotional crises and drugs seem to "upset" the unborn child.

Some of the doctors this reporter met would like to investigate what happens to the father and mother in the months before a child is conceived. They know that 1.5 million women each year in this country have spontaneous abortions in the first few days of pregnancy.

At least half of these embryos are so defective they could not survive under any conditions. To the research men this suggests that many other less defective embryos do survive and end up as physically handicapped embryos or emotionally crippled individuals, even when their life in the womb has been happy and uneventful.

Couched in scientific terminology and hedged with scientific qualifications, the possible link of these factors to the crime problem has as yet received little attention.

Pollution Not Only Nixon's Dilemma; It's Everybody's

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — President Nixon's sharp focus on "environmental control" in his State of the Union address is unprecedented.

Never before has a president given such attention to the rising dilemma of air and water pollution.

Already some of his critics are branding this as little more than the empty commitment of words. Since many young people are developing high interest in the pollution problem, the President is also said to be seizing this chance to divert them from their long preoccupation with the Vietnam war.

No one can say he does not have this partly in mind. But Nixon's associates insist that his concern for the deteriorating American environment is very real.

Because of the difficulty of controlling inflation, he may hold back on the money side for awhile. He may not spend all of the $800 million Congress voted this fiscal year to fight pollution. Yet he is pictured as a man who wants to be remembered as tackling the tough new issues of the 1970s—not just getting rid of old ones like the war.

Anyone who takes seriously the dire forecasts of the environmental specialist — the worst of which is that we will run out of good air to breathe in a few decades—must welcome the President's attention and the country's, to the extent they are truly enlisted.

There is plenty of evidence justifying pollution complaints against industrial plants, airplanes, automobiles and even government facilities. Maximum pressure may be needed to force real action.

Nevertheless, the accusatory finger should not be pointed only at the easy, obvious targets. The truth is that man is a despoiler—of his land as well as his air and water—and Americans are far from being any kind of exception.

Dr. Jean Mayer, nutrition specialist, presently serving the President, of food and hunger issues, blames the affluent—in this nation and presumably elsewhere — for wrecking the environment. In an interview given to T. George Harris in the magazine, "Psychology Today," Mayer says:

"Rich people occupy much more space, consume more of each natural resource, disturb the ecology more, litter the landscape with bottles and paper, and pollute more land, air and water with chemical, thermal and radioactive waste."

Maybe his argument is incontestable — up to a point. Yet, until the poisonous wastes of the internal combustion engine and some factory processes began to engulf us, most of the "environment-wrecking" was done to the land.

So blame belongs not just on governments and corporations and the affluent few in the world. Misuse of life-supporting environment is everybody's burden. If we Americans, for starters, are ready to reverse course and pay the incredible costs of restoration, it will be one tremendous miracle. The President is asking.

Right of Israel to Exist

Editor, The Freeman:

Twenty-five years a member of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives and author of the American Balfour Resolution adopted by Congress in 1922.

I call upon the President of the United States, the Secretary of State, and the Congress, and all interested in the preservation of the Democratic Government of Israel, to support its existence against the open and brazen efforts of Soviet Russia to arm all one party Socialist totalitarian Arab Nations for the purpose of destroying the free State of Israel.

As long as Moscow seeks to dominate the Arab Nations in the Middle East, militarily, industrially and financially, the United States should supply all needed armaments to the State of Israel to preserve its independence and to maintain its right to exist as a free and democratic nation. There is no substitute for freedom and it is not negotiable.

If Soviet Russia succeeds in destroying Israel, the next step would be to seize control of the Eastern Mediterranean while the United States is bogged down in the swamps and jungles of Vietnam and to take over the vast oil production in Saudi Arabia, Kuwait and the oil reserves owned by American companies largely for use in our own country.

I deplore and disapprove of the sale by France of 100 combat airplanes, to Libya which is hostile to Israel at the present time and could become engaged in open war within a relatively short time.

Israel is not asking for men or for volunteers but only for the right to buy armaments to defend her independence and security until the different Arab Nations agree to definite peace terms with her.

Having visited Israel recently and from my own observations, I believe that the present government of Israel like the Spartans of old, trained in the use of arms and indoctrinated with the determination of survival, will be able to defend its own independence. This can be done even against the machinations of Soviet Russia and the com-binized Arab Nations provided that the democratic State of Israel receives from the United States and other free nations, the necessary armaments to continue to exist as a free and independent nation.

Performing Arts of Woodstock

Editor, The Freeman

An event of importance to people who care about the American theater took place Friday night in Woodstock. Performing Arts of Woodstock was honored to present Charles Gordone — self described writer of black black comedy, reading from his newest works. The celebrated Mister Gordone offered this evening as a benefit for Performing Arts of Woodstock: a strong statement of his belief in the validity of this enterprising non profit group, which has recurrently provided an outlet for experimental works in the performing arts.

The electric impact of this accomplished actor and playwright was instantaneous and sustained. With his ear for the richness of language, the power of his presentation and the timeliness — and timelessness — of his material, he delivered an evening of outstanding theater.

Gordone is the widely publicized author of "No Place to Be Somebody," which has received the highest critical acclaim, and is currently playing on Broadway — having moved from its Off Off Broadway address. Walter Kerr hails Gordone as "the most astonishing new American playwright to emerge since Edward Albee." John Bartholomew Tucker of ABC calls him "one of the best playwrights of the 60's, make that the 50's and 60's." Leo Silver of the Daily News calls his play a "gem of a play, he writes with power, sensitivity and wry humor."

I was one of the fortunate ones who not only saw his play in the city but also saw him perform the lead role — an impressive combination of talent. This previous exposure to him was enhanced by the performance on Friday. Congratulations to P.A.W. — may they grow strong and stay aware.

Sincerely,

NANCY S. ANGELOCH

U. S. Weather Service

Editor, The Freeman:

The Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross would like to congratulate the ESSA Weather Bureau (formerly the U. S. Weather Service) on its observance of its 100th anniversary, February 9, 1970.

In its efforts in behalf of the protection of life and property, the Weather Bureau issues timely advance warnings of weather conditions which might precipitate potential natural disaster for the Ulster County area, the State of New York and other portions of the nation. The ESSA Weather Bureau, in the event of potential weather caused disasters, always alerts Red Cross as far in advance as possible. Such advance warning by the Bureau enables Red Cross to undertake extensive advance preparations for the care of and assistance to potential disaster victims. Most recently, the excellent hurricane forecasting by the Bureau made it possible for Red Cross to be prepared on the Gulf Coast before Hurricane Camille cut her path of devastation.

It is comforting to know that Red Cross and citizens of Ulster County can depend upon and have confidence in the valuable and appreciated service provided us by the ESSA Weather Bureau and its many weather observers.

Sincerely,

JOHN O'LEARY

Chapter Chairman

Mrs. Ella Ochs Dies, Former Regent of DAR

KINGSTON — Mrs. Ella Ochs, 80, of Kingston, died Saturday, Jan. 17 in Kingston Hospital. Funeral services were held Wednesday, Jan. 21 in the Jester Funeral Home in Andes, where Mrs. Ochs maintained a home.

A native of Andes, she was born March 29, 1889, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Reynolds. Married to William Ochs, now deceased, Mrs. Ochs was a teacher and principal in New York City for 40 years, according to a report in the Walton Reporter Jan. 22.

Since her retirement, Mrs. Ochs made Kingston her home. She resided at the Governor Clinton Hotel and devoted her free time to volunteer organizations.

For eight years, Mrs. Ochs devoted her energies to the Visiting Committee at the Home for the Aged on Washington Avenue. For two years, she served as president of the Music Appreciation Group and it was during her term as program chairman that she completed arrangements for the famous composer Geoffrey O'Hara to visit Kingston.

Mrs. Ochs also served as president of the Women's Club at the YWCA and held the presidency of Sorosis, a local literary club. She was historian, vice-regent and regent of Wiltwyck Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

According to reports received by The Freeman, there are no immediate survivors.

MRS. ELLA OCHS

Humiston Funeral Home Thursday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. Recitation of the Rosary will be at the funeral home Thursday at 8:30 p.m.

Sue Estes for Bills

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Billie Sol Estes, the Texas financier who built a $150 million empire on various swindles involving the sale of fertilizer tanks that never existed, was sued Tuesday by the state of Texas for $4,376 in back taxes.

Estes, who went to prison in 1965 for 15 years upon conviction for fraud, is now in Sandstone, Minn., federal prison. A federal parole board considers his case Friday.

DIED

ADAMS—At Kingston, N. Y., January 26, 1970, Mrs. Anna Lent Adams of Connelly, New York. Beloved mother of Frederick, Celia and Eugene Adams. Mrs. Florence Van Demark. Mrs. Joyce Banks. Mrs. Ruth Sears and Mrs. Rose Osterhoudt, and half-sister of Warry Bogart and Mrs. Irene Williams. Also surviving are several grand and great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the George J. Moylan Funeral Home, Main Street, Rosendale, Thursday at 2 p.m. Burial in Rosendale Plains Cemetery. Friends may call Tuesday and Wednesday 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

DOLLEMEIER—At rest January 26, 1970, Maxamillian Dollmeier, of 151 Third Avenue. Husband of Mrs. Katherine Binder Dollmeier; father of Mrs. Karl (Elizabeth) Glatzer and grandfather of Miss Lorelei Glatzer.

Interment in Montrose Cemetery. The family will receive their friends at the Kingston Chapel Tuesday 7 to 9 and Wednesday 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Memorial

In memory of Althea Passer Blanshan, whom God called home January 28, 1960. Ten years ago today Jesus called our precious one to rest.

Our home and hearts are empty. For she was one of the best; so kind and understanding. Now she is one of God's angels waiting up there for us. So 'til that day, all we can say is God take good care of our daughter and mother. Rest in peace, Althea.

MOTHER & FATHER SONS & DAUGHTERS

Memorial

In loving memory of Jerry Wolven, on his 10th birthday, January 28.

The fairest lilies are the first to fall. The sweetest first to fade. The fondest, dearest, best of all. At peaceful rest is laid But in God's garden free from pain.

Where grow His fairest flowers We know that we shall meet again.

This fairest bloom of ours. MOM & DAD SISTERS—DEBBIE, KAREN and BONNIE

Response Good To Appeal for Fire Help

KINGSTON — Members of the Dorfieldman Society of the First Presbyterian Church reported today that an appeal for clothing for two families made homeless Sunday when fire gutted their home and destroyed all personal belongings, has brought an overwhelming response from residents.

The fire was in the two-family house at 79 Hoffman Street, the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Kozlowski Jr., their five children and Mr. and Mrs. John Kozlowski Sr.

Mrs. John F. Crawford, of a Saccuman Avenue, Town of Ulster, formerly of 1034 Pine Place, who is in charge of a fund-raising drive for the two families with Mrs. James Freer of Sunset Park, president of the Dorfieldman Society, said that a home is needed for the two families.

"We have plenty of clothing for the families, but they are in dire need of large household articles and furniture in addition to a place to live," Mrs. Crawford said. A special fund has been started in a local bank.

Mrs. Crawford noted that donations in money orders or checks may be sent to the Dorfieldman Society, Presbyterian Church, Elmendorf Street, and made out to the society for the Kozlowski family.

Village Clerk In Disagreement With Ritter

ROSENDALE

Village Clerk Nancy Hanrahan today said Trustee William Ritter's statement that he was denied a look at village records is untrue and further by threatening a court order "intimidate me in giving him records that are entrusted to my custody by law."

Contrary to the Democratic trustee's statement on Monday, the village clerk said to avoid trouble she gave him the two files he asked for—the village law suit against former Democratic Mayor Joseph Reid on the violation of the trailer ordinance and the village dog ordinance—and made him sign for them. He later returned them, she said.

Mrs. Hanrahan said that when Mayor William Curran, a Republican, resigned he turned over his files to her custody. She notified Ritter, Kenneth Smith, the Republican trustee, and Village Attorney Daniel McMonagle that they were now in her custody.

On Jan. 24, the village clerk said Trustee Ritter called and asked if he could take the records. Mrs. Hanrahan said he could. On second thought, she called Trustee Smith and he said there was an understanding reached at the special meeting Jan. 20, that these records could be looked at but could not be removed from the village clerk's custody.

Mrs. Hanrahan said she was disturbed by the incident and called the Conference of Mayors to determine her rights in the matter. They advised her Wednesday morning that no one, not even a village trustee was entitled to take any records from her custody without a court order.

Pair Accused Of Taking Car

KINGSTON — Accused of taking an automobile from a parking lot at Tommy's Restaurant at 11 High Street Tuesday afternoon, two men were later taken into custody by police and charged with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

Arrested and held for arraignment before City Judge Hubert A. Richter were Thomas D. Clancy, of 89 St. James Street, and 21-year-old Michael P. Sulver of 276 Second Avenue.

According to information filed against the pair, they allegedly took a car belonging to George Gill of 1 Post Street, and went for a ride through city streets. The owner, it was reported followed the pair in another car and located them in a store, where they were later arrested.

Heart Workers Named for Area Fund Campaign

ROSENDALE

Joan P. Lewis of the 1970 Heart Fund for Rosendale recently announced the names of the volunteer workers to assist in the annual campaign for Heart Funds in the community. This year Heart Sunday will be Feb. 15, at which time volunteers are hopeful of reaching everyone in the area for contributions.

Volunteers for the campaign in Rosendale are: Mrs. A. De-Stefano, Mrs. J. Hofner, Mrs. F. Klepkes, Mrs. F. Negro, Mrs. B. Robertshaw, Mrs. R. Spindler and Mrs. J. Van Demark. Most of these volunteers have helped with the Heart Fund in past years.

Joan P. Lewis points out that although there will be a concentrated door-to-door campaign of all homes, the Heart Volunteer will call a second time the following week for those who are not at home on Feb. 15.

Heart Funds make possible search which has played so large a role in reducing the incidence of heart disease. Yet in spite of a substantial decrease in mortality rate due to heart disease in the last two decades, 54 per cent of all deaths in the United States last year were due to cardiovascular disease.

Benefit Dance Jan. 31 for Dimes Drive

ROSENDALE

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Rosendale-Tillson Post 1219, American Legion, is making plans for the annual March of Dimes dance to be held Saturday, Jan. 31, starting 9 p.m. at the post hall in Tillson.

Music will be by Lou Schaefer and his orchestra.

Mrs. Mildred Helmich, chairman of the dance said this is the only fund raising event planned for the benefit of March of Dimes in the Township. The annual Mothers March will not be held due to hazardous secondary road conditions. Mrs. Margaret Carroll, auxiliary president, asked that all area residents participate in and contribute to the success of the dance.

Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Helmich, Mrs. Carroll, Mrs. Verda Connor or Mrs. June Drolet. Tickets will be available at the door also. Contributions may be made by calling Mrs. Helmich.

West Shokan

Mr. and Mrs. John Bielli of Pear River, N.J. were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Neuser of High Point Road last week.

Carl Lane, Piney Point logger was a recent caller at the Jacky Brook Farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Steifmanis of West Shokan Heights Road are in the metropolis for the winter.

Spencer Quick of Leibhardt, truck driver for Accord Farmers Co-op was a caller in town Friday. He stated that this is the toughest winter in the past 14 years that he has been making deliveries.

Last week's scheduled meetings of the Women's Club and Senior Citizens were cancelled until the next regular meeting dates, which are Tuesday, Feb. 3 and Thursday, Feb. 5 at the Olive Free Library.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Smith came up from New York City last week to check their snowed in Ledgerock property. Aside from a frozen electric cellar pump, which was thawed out without damage, nothing else was found amiss.

Several area house and outbuilding roofs are reported having collapsed because of the heavy snows during Christmas week. Two of these are the Kaiser residence on Krumville-Samsonville Road and a new garage on Route 213.

Check Charge

A 38-year-old Dutchess County woman was arrested Tuesday by Kingston police on a warrant charging her with issuing fraudulent checks.

Mrs. Marie Wells of Bedell Road, Town of Poughkeepsie, pleaded innocent before City Judge Hubert A. Richter who adjourned hearing until Feb. 14. The woman is accused of issuing a $122 check at Sears Store. The complaint was made by security officers at Sears.

Raps Legion Fund

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, resigned from the American Legion Monday because he said one post started raising funds to defend Lt. William L. Calley on charges he murdered civilians at My Lai.

In a letter to National Commander Milton Patrick, Young said: "When an American Legion post such as Post 137 proceeds to make a general solicitation for a $200,000 fund to pay attorneys for Lt. William L. Calley Jr., in reference to the court-martial charges against him, I want out."

Israeli Warplanes in Closest Raid to Cairo

By United Press International
Israeli warplanes carried out their closest raid to Cairo today and anti-aircraft batteries in the downtown section of the Egyptian capital fired back for the first time since the 1967 war.

Beginning at 10 a.m., the Israeli warplanes launched raids against what Tel Aviv described as military bases at El Maadi, six miles south of Cairo, and at Dahshur, 18 miles south of the city.

The El Maadi raid, closest to Cairo since 1967, sent waves of Israeli jets over Cairo itself, drawing fire throughout the 15-minute raid from anti-aircraft batteries and machine guns downtown.

Cairo radio said four Israeli planes hit each target, killing a total of three Egyptian civilians, wounding 12 and destroying three houses.

Some witnesses said two of the planes were shot down, minutes in their first resistance. Israeli said all escaped safely. Shoppers and businessmen in the downtown sector were momentarily stunned by the burst of anti-aircraft fire but then went about their business as if nothing was happening. The ground gunners blazed away, sending streams of tracer bullets into the sky for 15 minutes.

Samuels Cites Problems After Son's Drug Arrest

NEW YORK (AP) — Howard Samuels, former U.S. Commerce Department undersecretary, says the arrest of his 17-year-old son for a drug offense brings home the problems of America.

Howard Samuels Jr., the son of Samuels, who is currently seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, was arrested Tuesday.

WABC-TV reported the arrest Tuesday.

"My wife and I expect that his case will be handled no differently than the cases of thousands of other young men and women," Samuels said. "While we worry about our son, we also worry about that America has not yet faced this problem squarely. Marijuana is no longer a private drug, but rather a drug that is used by millions of young men and women."

A spokesman for Samuels said the family understood the charge involved only the possession of marijuana.

The report of the teenager's arrest followed the arrest of the son of the New Jersey Gov. William T. Cahill in Philadelphia on similar drug charges and the indictment and arrest of Harvey Fleetwood III on charges of conspiracy to smuggle hashish into the country. Fleetwood is the son of a Chicago banker. His mother is a psychiatrist.

City Jaycees List Father-Boss Night

PORT EWEN The dinner meeting provides an opportunity for the Jaycees to convey their appreciation to various people within the community, such as their employers, community leaders, and others who have shown an interest in the growth of Kingston, such as their fathers that have given them the background training for caring. District Representative Albert S. Callan will be the guest speaker at this dinner meeting.

Sign-Up Dates For Farmers

KINGSTON

Sign-up period for the 1970 feed grain and wheat voluntary farm programs will begin Feb. 2 and continue through March 20, according to John Snyder, Ulster County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee Chairman.

Eligible producers may sign up at the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office, 54 John Street, Kingston, during office hours—8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Notice of feed grain base acres, projected yields, and payment rates have been mailed to farmers. Program explanation leaflets were included. Wheat allotment notices and program explanations were sent in the fall of 1969 to eligible producers following the announcement of 1970 program provisions for that crop.

Participants who comply with program provisions are eligible for price support loans and payments on their feed grain and wheat crops. Also, feed grain and wheat producers may receive payments for diverting additional acres from production of these crops.

Deadline Today On Filing for Police Exams

KINGSTON
Open competitive examinations for police patrolman to fill seven vacancies, one each in Ellenville and New Paltz and five in Saugerties, was announced this week by Ulster County Civil Service Commission.
The deadline for filing applications is Wednesday, Jan. 28. The examination is scheduled on Feb. 28 at a time and place to be announced.
In addition there is also an examination scheduled at the same time for a police dispatcher for Saugerties Police Department at $1.85 per hour. Candidates must be legal residents of the Village of Saugerties for at least four months immediately preceding the date of the test. Closing date for filing is also Jan. 28.
The eligible list for patrolman established as a result of this examination will be used to fill police patrolman vacancies as they occur in all Ulster County villages provided those eligible meets the minimum requirements for these positions.

Police Complain
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Police Patrolmen's Association has complained to Attorney General John N. Mitchell that police have been prejudiced in their dealings with the Black Panthers.
Patrolman Richard G. MacEachern, president of the group formed in Boston last week, said Monday 15 Boston-area clergy had asked Massachusetts Attorney General Robert Quinn to instruct all local police "not to prejudice the Black Panthers."

He will wear the Dolphin, emblem of Navy submariners.

See Here, Veteran

SO YOU'RE A VETERAN . . . just back from Vietnam . . . who cares? The Veterans Service Agency does . . . They are conveniently located so they can help you when you need it the most. Stop in to see them and get acquainted with them. While you're there, have them explain just what you're entitled to under the GI Bill. What's your thing? Back to school, the old job, a new one?

Sometimes a review of a discharge has made a veteran eligible for benefits which were originally denied because of a bad discharge record. If you think your discharge should be reviewed in light of new evidence or information let the office assist you in reopening your case. Boards of Review have the authority to change, correct, or modify a discharge that was NOT the result of a general court martial and direct the issuance of a new certificate in accordance with the facts presented.

CONTRARY TO WHAT SOME MAY SAY, a hospitalized veteran's pension is NOT generally reduced while he is in a VA hospital if he has a wife or children. If he has neither, then his pension is reduced to $30 after two full calendar months of care in a VA hospital. Upon his release his pension is restored in full but the monies deducted during his hospitalization are not recoverable.

HERE'S A MONEY SAVING TIP: Don't cash in that GI insurance policy for cash . . . Instead, you can borrow up to 94% of the cash value at a low interest rate of only 4%.

GI benefits assistance to a veteran's family does not necessarily cease upon his death.

Depending upon whether or not the veteran's death is attributable to a service connected disability, a variety of benefits are available to the eligible widow, his children, and in some cases, his dependent parents.

Immediate benefits, include a burial flag, reimbursement for burial expenses, and GI insurance proceeds if a policy is in force.

Death resulting from a service connected disability would entitle the widow and minor children to Dependency and Indemnity Compensation. In some cases, the veteran's dependent parents are eligible. If it resulted from a non-service connected disability then the widow and his children may be eligible for pension payments, depending upon their income.

CHILDREN OF VETERANS who die from service incurred disabilities become eligible for up to 36 months of higher education assistance. And, if the widow does not remarry, she may be eligible for a GI home loan. Depending upon the nature of the benefit, one or more of the following records should be brought along when applying: the veteran's discharge papers or his military service number, branch of service, and dates of service; the veteran's birth, marriage, and death certificates, and his children's birth certificates.

By: Charles Culver, State Veteran Counselor, NYS Division of Veterans Affairs, and John Tyler, Director, Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, County Office Building, Kingston, Office Hours: Mon. thru Fri.—9 to 5.

Navy, Marine Corps News

Local Seabee Cited in Vietnam

Equipment Operator Frank J. Stanley Jr., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Stanley of 46 Garden Street, Kingston, was recently cited for meritorious services while serving with the Navy Seabees in Chu Lai, Vietnam.

The award was made by General Creighton W. Abrahams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam.

In other Navy news, Lt. (j.g.) William A. Cranston, son of Mrs. Catherine S. Cranston of 309 Albany Avenue, Kingston, is serving at the U.S. Naval Air Station at Moffet Field, Calif.

Marine Corporal Robert W. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde W. Smith of Route 3, and husband of the former Miss Robert W. Coogan of Route 4, all of Kingston, received the Air Medal while serving with the First Marine Aircraft Wing in Vietnam.

Aviation Fire Control Technician Third Class Andrew S.

Kleegeer, son of Dr. and Mrs. Simon Kleegeer of 93 East Market Street, Rhinebeck.

Marine Corporal Willis R. Waterman, of 75 Abeel Street, Kingston, is serving with the First Marine Division in Vietnam.

Seaman Apprentice Raymond D. Bryant, of Route 1, West Hurley, is serving aboard the ammunition ship USS Great Sitkin.

The Great Sitkin, which recently returned from a Mediterranean cruise, is currently at its homeport in Bayonne, N.J.

Fireman Apprentice Gerald E. Langworthy, of Oak Ridge Road, Ellenville, returned to the United States aboard the aircraft carrier USS Saratoga following a seven month cruise in the Mediterranean with the U.S. Sixth Fleet.

The Saratoga is homeported in Mayport, Fla.

BUY TOTAL LIVING COMFORT, NATURAL GAS CLIMATE CONTROL

GAS HEATING

Today's better heating systems and controls are designed to work together to supply heat at an even, continuous flow. This precisely measured heat is delivered to all parts of the home to keep the family snug and comfortable regardless of outside temperatures.

AIR CLEANING

An electronic air cleaner installed in your system will trap up to 95% of the tiniest air-borne particles. Pollen, tobacco smoke and other irritants are thereby eliminated. The air in your home will be fresher and cleaning chores reduced. It's also a boon to allergy sufferers.

HUMIDITY CONTROL

As cold winter air enters the home and is warmed, it becomes very dry. The result: you may suffer from itchy skin, or dry irritated nasal and throat passages. An automatic humidifier installed in your heating system keeps the air in your home at the proper humidity all winter long.

CENTRAL AIR CONDITIONING

The pleasures of your home take on added meaning when the whole house is air conditioned. Heat, humidity, dust, noise and insects are kept outside. And, on summer's hottest, muggiest days — you'll enjoy the cool comforts of your own home.

DON'T JUST GIVE YOUR FAMILY HEAT...GIVE THEM TOTAL LIVING COMFORT

Let them enjoy good health, cleanliness and complete comfort with Natural Gas Home climate control. Don't just repair an old boiler — modernize the system with the add-on-future.

Benedictine — A Challenging Year

KINGSTON Dr. Milton Grover was elected president of the medical staff of Benedictine Hospital at the recent annual meeting. Dr. Vincent Amatrano will serve as vice president and Dr. Bartholomew Dutto as secretary-treasurer.

Commenting on the accomplishments of 1969, Sister Mary Charles, administrator, called it a very active and challenging year. She said the 1970's are projected as a very transitional period when the physician will share a more involved role in the administration of the hospitals.

"Great demands will be placed upon us to give attention to the social and economic problems of medicine," she said. "The public is going to become increasingly enlightened about what it wants and needs in terms of health services. It perceives cost as a problem; it perceives discontinuity of care and lack of continuity of care and lack of comprehensiveness. Our outlook must not only be within the confines of our hospital but on a community-wide basis. We must develop the concept of interdigitation among hospitals."

Dr. John Olivet, medical director, in making his report, said that 1969 had probably seen the greatest increment in the yearly steady rise of health services supplied to the community by Benedictine Hospital. He said the year saw continued improvement made to the physical plant, the modernization of the pediatrics department, and a new heart-stroke unit constructed, a telemetry unit in operation and the advancement of the concept of continuing education for physicians and paramedical personnel.

Speaking of the health care industry today, Dr. Olivet said the rising cost of hospital and medical care has given rise to political crisis. The health science industry is now the largest in the nation with transactions of $150,000,000 a day. "Will thoughtful physicians, administrators and trustees lead the way toward better extended care facilities, home health services and realistic kinds of group practices to more effectively and economically deliver comprehensive health care? If this does not come about the death knell of free enterprise system of medical care will be sounded."

Other reports given the medical-dental staff, board of directors, advisory board and others attending the meeting included those by the president of the board of directors, Robert V. Stapleton and medical department heads, Dr. Joseph Webber, Dr. Vincent Amatrano, Dr. Richard Clarkin, Dr. William Feldman, Dr. Herbert Derman, Dr. Paul Hoveman and Dr. Joseph Conrad.

Sister Mary Charles, in her address, told of the changes in the Benedictine Hospital Corporation during the past year, saying the membership consists of the Prioresse of the Benedictine Sisters of Elizabeth N.J., Mother Cornelia and other processed members of the Benedictine Sisters. The board of directors was newly formed to be elected by the corporation each year. At present there are eight laymen, seven religious and the president of the medical staff, Sister Mary Charles said this year is the first time a member of the medical staff has been included on the hospital board of directors; the first time a woman, other than religious, Mrs. Herbert Siller, was appointed.

"Our Advisory Board has continued to work with our Board of Directors," she explained. "This year three new members were added, Anthony Pizzarelli, Albert Spada and Joseph W. Robertson."

She commended assistant administrator Gerard Nocton for his "interest and skill" and speaking statistically, indicated an increase in patients admitted and treated throughout the year.

In talking of nursing service, Sister Mary Charles told of changes in personnel, in service education and the initiation of a hospital engineering management study program for nursing, service quality control and staff utilization.

The administrator also spoke of the graduation of the final class of the Benedictine School of Nursing, bringing to an end a 62-year school of nursing education.

Benedictine is now supplying clinical facilities and nursing experience in programs of nursing for Ulster County Community College, Board of Cooperative Education Services and UCCC emergency rescue classes.

Salaries for the year increased 18.8 per cent and over a five-year period, 88.07 per cent.

The hospital social services department cared for 310 cases with a total of 750 consultations. Services to out-patients totalled 92.

Sister Mary Charles said "This is the final year for our campaign pledges. Our total subscription was $1,145,721. To date we have $192,689 outstanding. We are grateful to you who have honored your pledges and we hope those of you who have not as yet will help us attain our goal by the end of this year. It was the first time in the history of Kingston such a goal was subscribed to. Thank you for your support and those who will be contributing their gift this coming year."

Sister praised the work of volunteers including the Auxiliary, Candy Strippers and others.

Concluding, Sister Mary Charles named three things the physician and the hospital will be concerned with in the future because they are what the public is concerned with namely, cost, quality and equality.

ANNUAL MEETING — Among principals at the recent annual meeting of Benedictine Hospital medical-dental staff were (L) Dr. Milton Grover, president of the medical staff; Sister Mary Charles, hospital administrator; Mother Cornelia, president of the Benedictine corporation, and Robert Stapleton, president of the board of directors. ## Traver Honored in Rhinebeck, Served as Judge 43 Years

By TIM SCHUSTER

RHINEBECK, N.Y. (UPI) — Town Justice Clarence Traver retired after 43 years on the Rhinebeck bench on New Year's Day, 1970, and was honored by the people of the town at a testimonial dinner Tuesday evening at Foster's Coach House.

Born in Rhinebeck in 1875, few men know the history, tradition, and stories of the past 95 years in this area than Judge Traver.

He was sworn in as judge in 1931 in the Old Dutch Church, where the first court in Rhinebeck was founded in 1802. Town Historian DeWitt Gurnell says of that first court, the original case was of a member of that church charged with public intoxication, and sentenced, "He hereby swear off the drinking."

of spirits and be suspended from the Lord's Supper until he shows proof that he hath obeyed his sentence."

Judge Traver ruled on his own share of public intoxication cases throughout the years, but remembered two murders involving shooting and knifing of husbands by their wives in his court.

Gurnell recounted the story of a humorous case involving a local moonshiner many years ago, in a recent vignette. A farmer lived near the judge, who made no secret of selling some of the choicest homebrew in the county. "On warm nights one could smell the odor of hard cider for miles around," he recounted.

Several warnings by the judge about keeping the barn door closed and not selling the product yielded little result. The sheriff and a band of deputies finally surprised a party in the barn, and local people took off in all directions.

Fall Kills Woman
ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — Helen Academy in Columbia County, Royal, 75, was pronounced dead Tuesday after she fell to the ground from the roof of her one-story home where she was shoveling snow.

When the farmer was released from the county jail after 45 days, he shook Judge Traver's hand and complimented him on the hospitality he found there.

The new Town Hall opened in 1939, a result of the Works Progress Administration of the Roosevelt era, and a change in court procedure. Suspected offenders were now tried and heard in the court, instead of on the road, in a house, or in a car.

Judge Traver received an annual salary of $150 at that time. He knew many state supreme court judges when they were assistant district attorneys in Dutchess County. He remembers when the state police first came to this area mounted on horseback.

He became president of the Dutchess County chapter of the State Magistrate Organization when the Uniformed Justice Court Act was passed and signed by Gov. Rockefeller in 1966. This required some law school training and the necessity of passing a justice examination.

He has retired to his ancestral farm, but leaves a mark spanning almost a century on the town which spawned him.

Horticultural Society Presents Largest Exhibit

By NANCY SULLIVAN

KINGSTON
"You're Now in McIntosh Country — Where Apples Grow Best."

That's what the sign says and you know it's true once inside the New York State Horticultural Society's annual Eastern meeting. The event started Tuesday and will end on Thursday. Approximately 600 persons were on hand to attend the opening.

buy a fruit tree, a piece of machinery, a cookbook or a pair of leather moccasins. Or, perhaps you have a yen for a bird and an animal scaring device, which emits strange sounds.

The College of Agriculture, the State Experiment Station and the Highland Laboratory have displays of work currently being done. Representatives located at these exhibits are waiting for the money exhibit to arrive from New York. The exhibit was supposed to have arrived for the opening of the show.

The New York State Horticultural Society has offered 109 years of service. Membership to the society includes the benefit of six to eight newsletters a year. These letters are beneficial to farmers, an example being that of the April letter which will have a spray chart giving the effectiveness and cost of each spray material on each major insect and disease, which aids the farmer in planning an economical spray program, a spokesman pointed out. The latest results in research and the experience of leading fruit growers as a result of the Rochester and Kingston meetings also are benefits for those who wish to join the Horticultural Society.

There was hardly a person there who, at one time or another, hadn't tasted or at least been tempted, to indulge in an apple. After all, they did say this is McIntosh Country. One man was heard to have said, "Why I remember one time out in my orchard when ... and his thoughts probably turned to spring and the hopes of a successful crop."

Heart Kickoff On Thursday

KINGSTON opportunity to volunteers throughout the county to meet and be acquainted.

A kick off luncheon for all out the county will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Every Door will also be Thursday, Jan. 29, at noon Dr. shown, and all volunteers will receive final instructions and campaign kits and materials.

Chairmen for a special mail appeal in the interest of the 1970 drive are Dr. Howard B. Arthur C. Chipp, County Heart Fund chairman urges all Heart and Harry M. Barnhart, license volunteers to make a special manager of the W. N. Conner effort to attend the luncheon. Funeral Home, now merged with the Keyser Funeral Home. The luncheon provides an opportunity to volunteers throughout the county to meet and be acquainted.

Banquet Tonight

The highlight of the Horticultural Show will be the annual banquet to be held tonight at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

This exhibit is the largest show ever sponsored by the Horticultural Society. Leading firms across the country are displaying new orchard sprayers, tractors, machinery, spray materials, fruit packages, nursery stock, seeds and other agricultural paraphernalia in the Armory drill hall and adjacent garage.

Nature Walk Set Saturday At New Paltz

NEW PALTZ — An invitation is extended by the members of the John Burroughs Natural History Society to join them on Saturday, Jan. 31 for a field trip which will be a Smell and Taste Walk.

The group will meet at 2 p.m. in the waiting room at the Gate House, the entrance to Lake Mohonk, on Mountain Road, between New Paltz and High Falls.

The leader of this winter talk will be Daniel Smiley of Lake Mohonk. He is a member of the research and records committee of the society and has given many lectures on conservation.

Those attending should dress warm for this Smell and Taste Walk in the snow.

Those who are nature lovers and would like to join the John Burroughs Natural History Society may contact Mrs. James Betts, Route 5, Box 45A, Kingston. A monthly publication with interesting nature items and field trip information is sent to all members.

Admission Data For Coleman Due on Friday

KINGSTON — Friday, Jan. 30 is the final date for eighth grade students to file application for admission to John A. Coleman High School.

All students seeking admission to the Freshman Class in September 1970, whether or not they have taken the Entrance Examination, must file a separate application and fee.

Application forms and further information are available at the high school located on Hurley Avenue Extension, Kingston.

Toastmasters Speech Meet

KINGSTON — "Why Toastmasters" by Fred Kuhn of the Kingston Toastmaster Club brought home a reminder of continuing education at the recent toastmaster meeting at the Holiday Inn.

Joseph Kelly, acting as Toastmaster, introduced the other speakers who were William Whalen, John Porsch and Bernard Trowbridge.

Toastmasters Clubs of Kingston, Poughkeepsie and Newburgh met Saturday at the Holiday Inn for a training session for active officers. The officer development program was presented by Lou Albach of the Poughkeepsie Club.

Men in the area interested in improving their ability in speaking may write for further information to CPO Box 235, Kingston.

Clintondale

Boy Scout Troop 171 met Wednesday night at the Clintondale Firehouse and heard Scoutmaster Richard Marquard outline a three-month program of lectures, demonstrations, advancement work and recreation. Members of the troop took part in the recent Klondike Derby held at the New Paltz Fair Grounds.

Charles Wickham, Main Street, was co-chairman of the committees in charge of arrangements for the penny social held Saturday night at Highland Grange Hall.

Each Wednesday a group of area women gather at the Clintondale Friends Church to sew for the Friends World Service Committee. Sewing session is from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. A luncheon to which the husbands are invited is served at noon.

Plattekill Grange will hold its annual roast beef supper at the Grange Hall Saturday, Jan. 31. Serving will be continuous from 5 until 7 p.m. In the event of snowstorm the supper will be held on Feb. 7.

'Bama Businessman Sticks to Deal on Land Sold to Black Muslims

PELL CITY, Ala. (AP) — My life has been threatened, my car dealership burned out and state authorities have arrested me.

"But I don't make baby deals. I sold the land. I gave my word. No matter what the pressure, I won't back down."

That is Ray Wyatt, 41. He wears bow ties and smokes cigars. He says when he makes a business deal he sticks to it.

Wyatt's life has changed since he sold nearly 1,000 acres of land to Black Muslims, who say they will farm the acreage and sell the produce in Northern cities.

Residents of Pell City, about 30 miles east of Birmingham, have made no bones about their resentment of the land sale made last November and have held heated gatherings in an effort to thwart the deal.

Wyatt claims his main reason for selling the land to the black group—50 acres 10 miles south of here and 376 acres 12 miles to the north—was because the county—St. Clair—desperately needs industry. He said most of the county's population now travels to Birmingham the steel center of Alabama, and Anniston for their jobs.

Wyatt said the Muslims will employ nearly 200 local persons in their farming operations, packing plant and cannery. "If the venture proves successful, it may draw other industry."

"Some of the finest people in America live in Pell City and St. Clair County. I think they will welcome an opportunity to work in the new industry even if it is operated by Negroes," said Wyatt.

But in the meantime, Wyatt's life is in turmoil.

He conducts business in a house trailer next to the building which until last month housed a new car showroom, a parts department and a repair and body shop.

One night the place caught fire.

"A state fire marshal told me there was nothing to indicate arson. He said he felt it was just an unfortunate thing at an unfortunate time," said Wyatt.

"I've never investigated a fire," Wyatt said, "so I'll just have to take the marshal's word for it."

He adds, however, "I have no opinion except that it is only human to be suspicious."

Damage was estimated at $200,000 and Wyatt says he was covered by insurance for only $100,000.

Wyatt said he has no definite plans to rebuild the dealership but that he will continue in some sort of business in Pell City. "I've lived in St. Clair County all my life and don't intend to move," he declared.

On Dec. 4, Wyatt, a former state senator, was arrested for the first time in his life as a result of the land sale.

He was charged with representing an out-of-state corporation that was doing business in Alabama without a license.

The land sold by Wyatt was purchased by Progressive Land

Developers, Corp., which is controlled by the Muslims but not licensed in Alabama.

Authorities charge that Wyatt is a representative of the company. His case was to have been heard Jan. 6 in lower court in the St. Clair County seat of Ashville, but has been postponed indefinitely.

He is currently free under $500 bond.

Wyatt says his brother, Wallace, 46, no longer speaks to him.

"When I took Wallace into my confidence concerning the deal, he became angered and hasn't spoke to me since."

Wallace said this is not exactly true. "We have not talked and it is probably my fault. But, I am more hurt than mad."

"He (Ray) sold out not only his children but my children to a foreign nation. The Muslims fly their own flag, have their own military force and their stated intent is to set up their own country. That's a foreign nation."

Wyatt says he still has plenty of friends. He said it has been a "small, small minority of people who like to harass and gossip. This goes back to the rotten apple story—the whole bunch is not bad because of a few."

SAUGERTIES

GOP to Elect Officers

SAUGERTIES Republicans for the various offices and will be prepared to make recommendations at the session. Election and installation of officers will be the major item on the agenda of Town of Saugerties Republican Club Thursday, Jan. 29 at 8 p.m. in the Flamingo Restaurant. The announcement by President Paul Pavlovich noted that a nominating committee formed at the last meeting has been interviewing interested

Named to Chorus

Nine students from the Glasco School have been selected to be members of the 1970 Ulster County Elementary Chorus. These students are Carol Bauser, Janet Poythress, Mary Ellen Buonfiglio, Megan Ehrmann, Mary Ann Sinnott, Jack Wallach, Debra Ward, Jodi Fondino, and Ann Clark. The chorus will participate in the Ulster County Choral and Orchestral Festival to be held at Saugerties High School on April 18.

Homemakers Club

Classes for creative sewing will be held Feb. 16 by the Homemakers Club here. Projects will include crocheted dogs, foam bathroom rosettes, needle work pillow tops, pillow cases, embroidered aprons, vests, and Christmas objects. The recent meeting was held at Saugerties Savings Bank Building, with improved membership.

Dog License Renewals Due

SAUGERTIES protector if the dog happens to be chasing deer.

Town Clerk Marion Newkirk advises that renewal of dog licenses is overdue. Miss Newkirk noted that those who no longer have dogs should call the town clerk's office and have their names taken from the list of delinquent dog owners.

Dog licenses are being issued at the clerk's office daily during regular office hours.

Town Police Chief Charles P. Riley said dog owners should be reminded that there is a dog ordinance which forbids permitting dogs to run at large.

Keeping a dog leashed is especially necessary at this time of year when dogs chase and ravage deer, the chief said. If you love your dog, the chief said, keep him tied up so he won't be killed by a game

Ulster Lodge Slates Degree Rites Tonight

SAUGERTIES The Degree of Entered Apprentice will be exemplified by the officers and brothers of Ulster Lodge 193 F & AM at the regular meeting tonight at 7:30 p.m. at the Temple on Russell Street, Saugerties.

Worshipful Harold J. Phillips, assistant grand lecturer of the Greene-Ulster District of Free and Accepted Masons will pay his official visit to Ulster Lodge at this time. All members and masons are cordially and fraternally invited to attend.

The Way to Win

Carnegie—Keeping Mental Skills Honed

Number Eleven in a Series
 By MIKE ROTHENBERGER
 Copyright Dale Carnegie
 Associates, Inc. 1967
 All Rights Reserved

"Young man, have you ever had an experience cutting trees?" The youth said, "No sir, I haven't, but I am very strong and healthy and willing to learn as fast as I can."
 The foreman was favorably impressed with the young man's eagerness so he told him to get a good night's rest and report for work early the next morning. When morning came the foreman took the young fellow out to the forest, handed him a shiny new axe and taught him how to fell a tree. Soon the foreman left and the young man began chopping down the trees as fast as he could.
 When evening came the foreman asked the young fellow how many trees he had cut that day. With a smile of pride on his face the youth answered, "I cut 50 trees today." The foreman gave him a nod of approval and went his way. The next night he was asked again for a report on his work and he was ashamed to tell the foreman that he had cut only 43 trees that day. On the third evening he was humiliated to report that he had cut only 35 trees.
 The foreman could not understand the decrease in your production so he began to question the young man. He asked, "Are you working as fast as you did on the first day?" The youth replied, "I'm working much faster." The foreman asked, "Are you swinging the axe as hard?" "Much harder," was the earnest reply. Then the foreman said, "Let me see your axe." He carefully examined the blade as the drew his fingers across the cutting edge and found that it was very dull.
 He slowly handed the implement back to the youth as he asked, "How many times have you stopped to sharpen your axe?" The young man quickly replied, "Sir, I haven't had time to sharpen my axe. I've been too busy cutting trees."
 Sometimes we allow the same to happen to our mental tools. We become so busy with our daily tasks that we forget the vital necessity of keeping our mental skills sharp through the process of continuous learning. If we fail to exercise our muscles they become weak and flabby, but vigorous physical exercise keeps them strong and healthy. So it is with our mind. If we fail to give it exercise we know it will become dull and unresponsive. It has often been said that the people who keep learning stay young. Vigorous mental exercise through the process of continued learning, is the surest way to keep the mind young. A keen, youthful mind is one of the ways to win a long and purposeful life.

Area Parents Group to Hear Salzmann

KINGSTON at the George Washington School.

Louis Salzmann, acting superintendent of schools, will address the first general membership meeting of the Kingston Area Parents Association, Wednesday, Feb. 4 at 8 p.m.

Salzmann will address the group on all current aspects of the local school system, indicating both strengths and weaknesses and also will offer his own interpretation of the value the Parents Association may be to the Kingston Consolidated School District.

Formation of the non-profit Kingston Consolidated School District Parents Association, a direct result of the desire by area parents to become a more integral part of the school system, will provide a direct line of communication between parents and the KCSD, as well as establish a means of promoting the interests of area parents on issues involving the educational welfare of our students.

An advisory committee, headed by John J. Erickson, has set up a schedule for the initial meeting which includes enrollment of members and presentation of proposed by-laws. Nominations for election for officers and board of directors will be presented to the group; additional names will be accepted from the group at large. The board of directors will be comprised of 21 members, representing all schools of the Kingston Consolidated School District.

A campaign to alert all parents in the local school district of this meeting is presently underway. Membership in the KAPA is open to individuals who are parents or legal guardians of students enrolled in the Kingston Consolidated School District.

Following formal adoption by the membership of the Kingston Area Parents Association's principle aims, the newly-elected officials will immediately proceed to coordinate parent participation in the education system, with particular emphasis on the local Kingston Consolidated School District area.

McCord Again Heads Soil, Water Group

KINGSTON District at the January meeting, the board was organized in 1965 to aid and assist land owners and communities on problems of land use and water control. Victor McCord of Gardiner, District Chairman of the Conservation, Soil Conservation Board for the Ulster County Service, said "This is Vic's fourth year as chairman since done." This past year there have been 15 requests for community assistance. Some individual landowners, concerned about land and water conservation, installed 19,000 feet of ditches and 18 ponds. Approximately 13,000 acres of land have been treated adequately.

McCord informed the board the soil scientists of the Soil Conservation Service attached to the District have completed 100,000 acres of soil survey, initially started in 1966. The information contained in the surveys will be of great help to community planning boards and zoning boards, as well as individual land owners, it was pointed out.

Others present at the meeting were William Palmer, Extension Service; David Squires, ASC and John Snyder, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee.

Mohawk Will Suspend Service In Poughkeepsie

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board Tuesday gave its authorization to Mohawk Airlines to suspend service at Poughkeepsie, N.Y., for three years and turn over its routes to a smaller carrier. The board approved an agreement under which Command Airways, an air taxi operator, will provide a substitute service beginning Feb. 1.

Mohawk currently provides one round trip per day Monday through Friday, between Poughkeepsie and Binghamton, N.Y. Command plans three round trips each weekday.

Mohawk said its smallest aircraft, the FH227, seats 44 passengers, but that an average of only 10 seats were filled on all flights serving Poughkeepsie. Command will utilize 15-passenger Beech 99 project planes to provide more frequent service at a lower cost.

The CAB estimated the suspension would enable Mohawk to reduce its government subsidy by $76,000 in 1970.

Fires in Models of Color TV Sets

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Commission on Product Safety says 122 models of color television sets have been exploding or catching fire at an above-average rate. The commission's decision Monday to identify the models brought an accusation from the Electronics Industries Association that the commission was creating an unfair competitive advantage for some manufacturers.

The commission said the nation's 22 million color sets have been catching fire at the rate of 12 per 100,000. It said the sets it identified were igniting at the rate of 30 per 100,000.

Olympic television sets manufactured by Lear Siegler Corp. averaged the highest rate in the industry, the commission said. It said nine of the firm's models were identified as potential hazards.

The other firms identified as exceeding the industry average were, in descending order: Packard Bell, Magnavox, Sylvania, Philco-Ford, and RCA.

Five firms were identified as having an incidence rate below the industry average, although some models caught fire at the 30 per 100,000 rate. The firms, in descending order, were: General Electric, Admiral, Motorola, Emerson, and Warwick (Sears).

The commission, which has been conferring with the industry for three months on the issue, sent letters asking the manufacturers to recall, repair or replace faulty sets.

Commission chairman Arnold B. Elkind said some sets on the list might not be fire hazards but he added the information should be furnished to the public rather than risk the consequences of fires in color television receivers.

In attacking the commission's action, Jack Wyman, staff vice president of the electronics association, said the report "will result in unduly alarming the public about the relatively limited problem." He said the problem of fires is small compared with the number of sets in American homes. "Television sets are safe products," he said.

Misasi-Cipolla Nuptials Announced

Miss Francine M. Misasi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Thomas Misasi of Glasco, exchanged nuptial vows with Peter J. Cipolla of Little Neck, son of Mrs. Joseph Cipolla, Maiba, N. Y. Saturday, Jan. 24 at St. Joseph's Church in Glasco.

The Rev. Joseph Santulin officiated at the double ring ceremony. Arrangements of white gladioli decorated the altar.

Jamaica was honor attendant in a green velvet gown, styled with long sleeves, a standing collar, and an empire bodice with a sheath skirt. She carried a bouquet of yellow and bronze pompons and chrysanthemums.

Leonard Cipolla of Malba, was best man for his brother. Ushers were Thomas Misasi, brother of the bride, and James Bruno, cousin of the bride.

A reception for 150 guests was held at Flamingo Restaurant, Saugerties.

For her wedding trip to Italy, the bride selected an eggshell crepe dress with brown accessories and a mink coat.

The bride, a graduate of Saugerties High School and Grace Downs School in New York, worked for Trans Caribbean Airways as a stewardess.

Her husband, an alumnus of Flushing High School, is a graduate of college in Florida and is proprietor of a restaurant in Queens.

Mr. and Mrs. Cipolla will reside at Little Neck.

Special Dance for Lefooters on Friday

The Lefooters Western Style Square Dance Club has invited its Monday night workshop members to join them for the first time at the regular Friday night dance, Jan. 30. Don Blair, club caller, will be there to smooth the way for a pleasant merging of old and new dancers. The seasoned club dancer looks forward to meeting this enthusiastic new blood and introducing the new dancer to the fun and friendliness of club dancing, while the novice dancer generally faces his debut with both pleasant anticipation and fear. This fear quickly disappears during the first dance, when the new dancer realizes that the old dancers are not only friendly but patient and helpful as well.

The Lefooters Western Style Square Dance Club was founded six years ago in Saugerties, by Don and Mary Arthur, who have since moved away from this area. This Lefooters seventh Workshop began in Sept. 1969 and will be graduated in April.

As all new square dancers soon learn, square dancing not only provides good healthy exercise but a marvelous opportunity to meet congenial people of all ages from all walks of life. Square dancers like to share their fun with new people. Therefore, any interested clubs or social groups may request and have a demonstration of people doing Western Style Square Dancing performed for them by contacting Club Chairman, Bill Maropolos, Woodstock.

Sunday Happening For Teenagers

Kingston Area Council of Churches will sponsor its semi-annual ecumenical youth rally Sunday from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at St. James Methodist Church, Fair and Pearl Streets.

A happening entitled, Plain Brown Wrapper, will be presented by the novitiates of Holy Cross. The program will include instrumental music, singing, silent movie and drama.

All teenagers are invited to attend. St. James Church office may be contacted for additional information.

Wedding Told

Chamber Music Concerts

CHAMBER CONCERT in the Church of the Holy Cross received enthusiastic endorsement. The second concert is scheduled for February 28 at 8 p.m. Here, the members of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic take their bow after playing Concerto in D Minor for Two Violins. Soloists were Linda Commiskey and Ellen Stenger.

The first of a series of chamber music concerts was given here recently by the Monteux Chamber Players, an ensemble made up of members from the Hudson Valley Philharmonic.

The concert received enthusiastic endorsement and, according to Mrs. Raymond Rignall, local music teacher, "...it was a perfect setting for chamber music and a delight to hear it in a setting of the style and size for which the composer intended."

The concert was given in the Church of the Holy Cross on Pine Grove Avenue in Kingston. The series chairman is Miss Margaret Beal.

The program was opened with Bach's Sonata No. 3. In the Concerto in D Minor for Two Violins, the soloists included Ricercare No. 6 from the Musical Offering and the Brandenburg Concerto. In the latter number, Claude Monteux played flute and Leon Sayvitz played solo violin.

Mrs. Rignall told The Freeman that the entire performance demonstrated beautiful tone since each player is a soloist in his or her own right. "The ensemble provided excellent support for the soloists and the entire performance was characterized by precision. Rubatos were beautifully controlled, strings were in tune and rich and it was nice to hear the double bass used as a musical instrument instead of being used as a member of the percussion family," she said.

A reception was given afterwards in the church hall. A welcome was given by Norman Rafalowsky, president of the Ulster County Council, Hudson Valley Philharmonic.

The second concert in the Winter Chamber Series will be given on February 28 at 8 p.m. in the Church of the Holy Cross. Anyone desiring reserved tickets should write to: Hudson Valley Philharmonic, UPO Box 1, Kingston.

In the ensemble were:

violins, Linda Commiskey, Christine Fedenburgh, Karen Girko, Janice Longo, Barbara Riccardi, Leon Sayvitz, Ellen Stenger, Henry Zielinski; violas, Rudolf Efram, Valborg Leidal, Betty Parker; cellos, Glenda Bossen, Luis Garcia-Renart, Laura McLellan; contrabass, Kenneth Fricker; flutes, Claude and Marianne Monteux; harpsichord, Sylvia Suzowsky.

RECEPTION for chamber music lovers was given after the first in a series of concerts given by the Monteux Chamber Players in the Church of the Holy Cross in Kingston. Assisting guests at the coffee table were (l-r)

Miss Helen Sheldon, member of the board, and Mrs. Norman Rafalowsky.

Tiny Tips

To scour a greasy sink, apply soap or detergent to a dry cloth or sponge, and scrub the sink — also dry. Then turn on the hot water and rinse the grease away.

After sudsing off and rinsing those sturdy, leather-like vinyl plastics used for furniture upholstery and luggage, polish them by buffing them with a dry cloth.

When you are cooking shrimp you can add peppercorns, bay leaf and dried thyme leaves to the cooking water. And don't forget the salt!

HEAD HOSPITAL BENEFIT — Steering activities for the upcoming charity ball planned by the Kingston Hospital Auxiliary will be (l-r) Mrs. Anthony R. Triulzi, ticket chairman; Mrs. George C. Swart, treasurer and reservations chairman, and Mrs. Allan M. Dumas, co-chairman of tickets. The ball is scheduled for Saturday, Feb. 7 at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Auxiliary Ball in February

Mrs. Wilbur R. Peters and Mrs. Richard E. Winter, co-chairman of the Kingston Hospital Auxiliary Ball, "An Enchanted Evening," have announced their committee for this social event on Saturday, Feb. 7 in the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Mrs. Anthony R. Triulzi, ticket chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Allan M. Dumas, Mrs. George C. Swart is treasurer and reservations chairman.

On the all-important decorating committee, Mrs. Charles F. Seeger is chairman, assisted by Mrs. Seeger, Mrs. William G. Willt, Mrs. Percy Russell, Jr., Mrs. Robert O. Wemple, Mrs. Howard R. Finger and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones.

Mrs. H. Van Wyck Darrow is in charge of radio publicity, with Mrs. George C. Rifenburg handling the newspaper publicity.

The public is cordially invited to this traditional gala. Those who have not received invitations and would like to attend, may contact Mrs. Swart or any member of the committee.

A punch party will be held from 8 to 9 p.m. in the main reception room, with dancing from 9 to 1 in the Crystal Room, to the music of Howard Rust and his orchestra.

All proceeds from the Ball will be used for the Auxiliary's many projects in aiding the hospital.

Distaff Digest

Socials Planned

The Ladies Auxiliary of Sawkill Volunteer Fire Company held its first meeting of the year Monday, Jan. 19 at the firehouse with a large number of members in attendance. Routine business and social plans were discussed.

A family ice skating party is being planned under the chairmanship of Mrs. George Aitken. Tentatively, it is scheduled for a Friday evening within the next few weeks. Since the date will be dependent upon weather conditions, notice of the party will be posted when definite date is decided.

Next month the Auxiliary will hold a Chinese auction and a miscellaneous sale as entertainment after the regular meeting which is planned for Monday, Feb. 16 at the firehouse.

The Auxiliary will hold its annual fund raising activities during the Easter season.

Community residents are reminded of the existence of a loan closet, maintained by the Auxiliary, which has items available to residents. Anyone in need of sickroom supplies and equipment should contact Mrs. George Leedecke for information.

All members of the Auxiliary and other interested women of the community and fire district are invited to attend the next regular monthly meeting.

To Meet Wednesday

Zephaniah Chapter, B'nai B'rith Women, will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Congregation Ahavath Israel, 100 Lucas Avenue, Kingston. An indoctrination session will be held for new members. The program will be a demonstration on how to make plastic flowers.

Open House

An open house will be held Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. at the newly renovated parsonage of Olivebridge-Samsonville-Vly Charge of United Methodist Church, located on Route 213, Olivebridge.

The public is invited.

At 7:30 p.m. the annual Charge Conference will take place at the parsonage with the Rev. Paul Allen officiating. Members and friends are urged to attend.

Food Tips

Boiled potatoes are particularly delicious when they are doused with melted butter mixed with grated lemon rind and minced chives.

As a dressing for wedges of iceberg lettuce use sour cream mixed with diced cucumber and thinly sliced radishes. Spoon the dressing over the lettuce and top with finely sliced scallions green onions.

Pantryshelf salad: drain a can of kidney beans and rinse them under cold water. Mix the beans with diced cheddar cheese and celery; toss with French dressing; serve on lettuce.

Hints from Heloise

By HELOISE CRUISE

Dear Heloise: I made my daughter the cutest pajama bag from her dad's old shirt.

Cut the arms and tail from the shirt and sewed up the armholes and the bottom.

All you have to do to put the pajamas in the shirt is unbutton the shirt and stuff them in.

I also added a bow tie at the collar... looks so cute.

Mrs. R. C.

Dear Heloise: I have found that if you take a soap-filled scouring pad and rub your wooden knitting needles with it your knitting thread works like magic.

And you knit twice as fast!

X X

Letter of Laughter

Dear Heloise: When it rains it always pours...

When are you going to build an ark and call it Heloise? I'll be the first one to jump on!

Mother of Five

Dear Heloise: If the cover to your lipstick gets loose, cut a tiny narrow strip of adhesive tape and put it around the bottom of the tube.

The cover will then fit over the tube real snug like and won't always be falling off in the bottom of your purse.

Mo

Dear Heloise: When using rubber gloves to wash the dishes, it is sometimes hard and even disastrous to remove them easily.

I found that by running the cold water over my gloves I can peel them off quick as a flash.

The Senators travel to West Point tomorrow afternoon for a 4 p. m. contest with the Cadets' Plebe team. The Army squad broke a three-game losing streak Monday by dumping the Seton Hall freshmen, 72-63. Their record now stands at 6-3. The game will be played at the Point's Central Gymnasium. The visitors never stood a chance in this one as Coach Mike Perry's boys were off and Moss and company were simply fantastic as they stole the ball time and again, pitching in to the side and then coming in the middle for the rebounds. On three successive plays, Moss and Pough stole the ball and pitched out to Tripodo, who hit on jump shots from the right side.

Berry did an outstanding job both ways for Perry's crew, as he had the crowd and the visitors' bench oohing and ahhhing with his fine assortment of shots around the basket.

Perry was substituting often and early, but Ray Lindhorst, Ed Torroni, Linnell Marshall, Gary Flowers, Bob Klementis and Dallas Pickett kept the pressure on, producing a 65-33 halftime score.

It might not seem possible, but it was true, that in the second half the home side was even more devastating than they were earlier. With Moss and Kirkwood doing most of the damage, Ulster moved to a 63-point bulge, 109-46, with 11 minutes left in the contest.

SAUGERTIES

Bill Benham, held scoreless in the first half by a tenacious defensive effort by the visitors rallied his team behind his 23 points as the winners, trailing for most of the tilt, pulled ahead to stay with less than a minute left in the third period.

Coach Jerry Hawkins started his Sawyers out in a man-to-man defense, but Gaudet picked up the team with a series of shambles of that as he went to the hoop for 10 points early in the first quarter.

The Saugerties mentor then said

Willis Reed and Walt Frazier each scored 24 points for the Knicks. They sealed the Celtics' demise with a combined 33-point effort in the first half as New York grabbed a 67-33 intermission lead before a crowd of 19,500, the 16th sellout of the season.

In the only other NBA game, Jerry West continued his torrid shooting by scoring 41 points as Los Angeles downed San Diego 124-109, for the Lakers' fifth straight victory and the Rockets'

West also was credited with 11 assists. Happy Hairston was second high scorer for the Lakers with 25 points while Boston used four newcomers with veteran John Havlicek in the fourth quarter after New York gained a 35-point lead with a minute remaining in the third period.

In Pro Football Draft

Small Schools Next Target

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pro football teams were expected to continue to dip heavily into the vast pool of small college talent today as the National Football League completes the final 10 rounds of its two-day, 17-round session.

Pro teams bypassed much of the "big name" talent in the first seven rounds conducted Tuesday and made nearly one-third of their picks from the small college ranks. These choices included the selection of Louisiana Tech quarterback Terry Bradshaw by Pittsburgh as the No. 1 pick in the draft, the first time a small college player ever had been chosen first in the pro draft.

The selection of Bradshaw, a strong armed passer whose heroics have earned him nicknames like "The Rifleman" and "The Blond Bomber" was one of six small college choices made on the first round.

In addition to Bradshaw, wide receiver Ken Burroughs of Texas Southern was taken by New Orleans; tackle Doug Wilkerson of North Carolina Central was chosen by Houston; tight end Rich McGeorge of Elon was selected by Green Bay; safetyman Bruce Taylor of Boston University was chosen by San Francisco; and tight end Ray Chester of Morgan State was picked by Oakland.

The "name" players did get some recognition. Green Bay, using a choice obtained from Chicago, took Mike McCoy, the All America defensive tackle from Notre Dame as its No. 1 choice following Bradshaw, and Cleveland, taking advantage of a choice from Miami, took All America quarterback Mike Phipps of Purdue.

Boston chose Phil Olsen, the All America defensive end from Utah State and brother of Los Angeles star Merlin Olsen. Following the selection of Southern Cal defensive end Al Cowling by Buffalo and Oklahoma tight end Steve Zabel by Philadelphia, Mike Reid, Penn State All America defensive tackle, went to Cincinnati. St. Louis, choosing eight made a stunning choice by taking little publicized Larry Stegent of Texas A&M as the first running back and San Francisco took Cedrick Hardman of North Texas State, a little known defensive tackle.

Denver followed Burroughs' selection by New Orleans by taking Colorado's Bob Anderson, an All America running back and Atlanta chose John Small, a linebacker from The Citadel. The New York Giants selected Jim Fyles, an Oklahoma linebacker, and San Diego took Walker Gillette, a flanker from Richmond.

Baltimore took running back Norm Bulaich of Texas Christian before Detroit chose Heisman Trophy winner Steve Owens, the running back from Oklahoma as the 19th pick of the round.

The New York Jets named cornerback Steve Tannen of Florida and Cleveland chose Bob McKay, Texas offensive tackle. Los Angeles named Tennessee linebacker Jack Reynolds and Dallas took West Texas State running back Duane Thomas. Minnesota tabbed John Ward, an offensive tackle from Oklahoma State and the world champion Kansas City Chiefs completed the first round by choosing Sid Smith, an All American tackle from Southern California.

Nine small college players were selected on the second round and 10 more were picked in the third.

Possibly the biggest surprise of the draft, next to the comparatively low choice of Owens, was the selection of four players from little Southern University of Baton Rouge, La. in the first four rounds.

Philadelphia took defensive back Ray Jones and Denver took defensive back Aiden Roche on the second round. Pittsburgh took defensive back Mel Blount to open the third round and Green Bay took wide receiver Kenny Ellis in the fourth.

Tuesday's selection of 182 players took 10 hours and 59 minutes. Today's selection is expected to wind up much more quickly with a five-minute time limit in effect for all rounds. A 15-minute limit was on the first two rounds, which took over two hours to complete.

Farley Is A Winner

RHINEBECK

The Cadets of Cardinal Farley withstood a 22-point fourth quarter scoring spree by visiting Dover Plains to win a 53-52 non-league contest last night. Although both teams are members of the Bi-Valley League, this tilt is one of the ones that don't count on the standings.

The Cadets, paced by the strong board work of 6-8 Dave Villamarin, who gathered in 23 rebounds and the scoring of George Jay and Rory Scully, led 43-30 going into the last period.

However, the visitors went into a full-court, man-to-man press that almost completely buffeted the home side, forcing the Cadets to commit 14 turnovers in the last stanza. The game was won and lost at the foul line as Farley hit 17-28 and Dover a dismal 12-31 from the charity stripe.

St. Mary Tyros Have 11-Game Streak

KINGSTON three more in third quarter, before coming on for a 13-7 Tyro cagers whipped two strong Dutchess county quintets to extend their winning streak to 11 straight games.

A well balanced attack gave the locals a 30-27 decision over Regina Coeli of Hyde Park, despite a 15-point effort by Coeli's Tim Keating, who led all scorers.

Pete Mercier led St. Mary's with 7 points and Mike Kiernan netted six. Bill Kiernan was runnerup for Coeli with 6 points.

St. Mary's bolted to a 11-2 lead in the first quarter and made it stand up.

Rich Terpening scored nine points to pace the Tyros to their 11th straight, a 33-31 squeaker over the rugged Jewish Community Center squad of Poughkeepsie.

Maroon Swimmers Dunk Fallsburg

FALLSBURG scored a victory in the 200-yard freestyle, setting the pace in record-breaking performance in the 100-yard breaststroke and double wins by Fred Robinson and Mike O'Hara. Kingston High School's swimmers took a DUSO League match from Fallsburg, 58-33 at the loser's pool. It was the sixth straight time that the Maroons have downed the Fallsmen in four years.

Murray set the breaststroke record for Fallsburg's pool, going the distance in 1:10.8. His time was two-tenths of a second better than the old mark set in 1967 by Highland Falls' Cal Benedict.

O'Hara continued to be a double-winner as he won the 200-yard individual relay in 2:27.3 and the 100-yard backstroke in 1:06. Robinson

Middies Trounce Ellie Matmen

MIDDLETOWN High School's wrestling team snapped a three-game losing streak Tuesday night, defeating Ellenville, 35-9 in a non-league encounter. The Middies used three JV grapplers and two of them, Rich Walling and Ed Silverman — 117 and Ed Silverman — 177 turned in victories.

Walling took a 13-5 decision over Ira Hill, while Silverman, in only his second match, decided Neil Knapp, 7-5, on a third period reversal. Rich Keener remained unbeaten at 109 pound class for the Middies, gaining his eighth victory, with a 12-2 decision over Ken Jeter. The only blemish on Keener's perfect mark is a draw.

Vince Schmidt, moving up two places to the heavyweight division from the 177-lb. class, scored his eighth win against one loss by pinning Bruce Meyers, the Ellies' strong boy, in 53 seconds. Schmidt was wrestling in place of Nick Costanzo, who was out sick.

"The kids are improving," said Middle Coach Art Gage. "We just hope we can give Port Jervis a better battle Thursday night," he concluded.

Results:
100 lb.—Bruce Clark (M), forfeit.
109—Rich Keener (M) dec. Ken Jeter, 12-2.
117—Rich Walling (M) dec. Ira Hill, 13-5.

The horse is better than most 1970 cars.

We are not joking. The run-of-the-mill 1970 car is an affront to progress.

It's too expensive to buy. And too expensive to run. It's almost impossible to park, and maneuvering it through city traffic would try the nerves of a saint.

You'd be better off with a horse.

Which is sure-footed, inexpensive, maneuverable and it eats hay. Nice, cheap, hay.

We, at Renault, are one of the few automakers to make a car that's better than the horse.

The Renault 10. Since it gets 35 miles to the gallon, it is cheap to run.

And since it has independent suspension and disc brakes, it is sure-footed and easy to stop.

And since it is maneuverable, it is easy to park. And since it costs $1725, it is easy to buy. And it is also more comfortable than the horse.

Goalie Lorne "Gump" Worley and right wing Bernie "Boom Boom" Geoffrion, both of Montreal and New York, picked up one apiece.

Hull, who grew up in the hamlet of Pointe Anne, Ont., and still makes his home nearby, came to the Black Hawks in 1957 without prior professional exposure.

The husky, blond left wing scored 13 goals in his first NHL season and 18 in his second. In 10 campaigns since then, he has averaged 44—with a high of 58 for an all time record last year.

The modest musclemann, an explosive skater whose booming slap shot has been clocked at 118 miles per hour, won three league scoring titles and was named the NHL's Most Valuable Player twice, in 1964-65 and 65-66.

In the latter season, he gunned in 54 goals, set up 43 more and captured the scoring crown, the Hart Trophy as MVP and the Lady Byng Trophy for gentlemanly play.

His coach, Billy Reay, calls Hull "the greatest player I've ever seen. In my time, I played against Maurice Richard and Gordie Howe, and I say Hull is better than either of them. He can skate faster and better than either one and he shoots harder. "His shot is like a piece of lead," testifies Plante, a seven-time winner of the Vein Trophy as the league's premier goaltender. "You have to see it coming toward you to believe it. He has the hardest shot I ever saw."

Shawnee Snowmobile Club Prepares Track for Racing

GARDINER

Members of the Shawnee Snowmobile Club and the Gardiner Fire Company are whipping the quarter-mile track and parking area in shape for the snowmobile race at McCord's Farm, Route 208, five miles east of New Paltz on Feb. 8.

Stock classes will range from 0 to 650cc, plus modified machines. There will be a Powder Puff and Junior race. Trophies will be awarded for first, second and third places.

A special fun race designed to test driving skills is also scheduled. First prize goes to the driver who turns in the best time. William George, the race chairman, says the course will be easy enough for the young ones, yet tricky enough to interest everyone.

Ontario Central High's strong girls basketball varsity and the Jayvees continue to sweep the opposition.

Led by Jackie Credle's 9 points, the varsity cagers defeated New Paltz High, 35-27, while the Jayvees won their game, 19-12, as Nancy DiNapoli led with five.

Top rebounding efforts were turned in by Miss Credle with 11, Bea Wilkinson 12 and Mary Ann Viskolich 10. Anne Tancillo led New Paltz with nine.

Ontario Varsity (35)—Credle 9, Graham 1, Rich 6, Heidenstrom 2, Wilkinson 12, Viskolich 3, Winchell 4, Sweeney 4, Mellert, Snyder 1, Berry 2.

Dear Abby

Can Still Win Race!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
(© 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I knew when I married my husband that his first love would always be horses. I never minded being second to a horse, but now I think a female bi-ped has put me in third place.

This woman is not married. She has horses of her own and she relies on my husband for help and advice about her horses. They seem to spend a lot of time together. I am invited to join them, but what fun is there for me when there is nothing but horse talk?

People who know her say she has no women friends, enjoys the company of men, but doesn't want the responsibilities of marriage.

I love my husband too much to leave him, but I was much happier before this horsey dame came along. My husband keeps telling me that I have nothing to worry about, but for the first time in my life I am jealous. Please tell me what to do.

THIRD PLACE: Take it from the horse's mouth, your husband is probably just feeling his oats. Turn the two of you into a trio, brush up on your knowledge of horses, and you may win by a nose.

DEAR ABBY: The facts are as follows: "Mr. Phyllis" is a hairdresser who works on commission. After his day's work at the shop or on Sunday, or his day off, occasionally he goes to the home of a patron to set her hair there. (It is usually for a wedding or some special occasion. And let me add that these patrons go to the shop regularly, too, so it is not as tho Mr. Phyllis is taking any business away from the shop.)

My question: Do you think the shop is entitled to a commission on the services rendered by Mr. Phyllis OUTSIDE the shop?

INTERESTED PARTY: DEAR ABBY: As I see it, what "Mr. Phyllis" does on his own time is HIS business. And if he wants to do business after business hours, that's also his own business.

DEAR ABBY: My husband owns his own business and takes care of it almost entirely by telephone, which means that he is home all the time, and frankly, Abby, he gets underfoot.

I am the type of woman who likes a clean and orderly house, and I have my own way of doing things. I like to give each room a thorough cleaning, then I know that it's done, and I can sit down and relax. But with my husband home all the time, he's always in my way and I just hate having to clean "around" him.

If I could get him out of the way for just three full hours so I could clean properly, I'd be the happiest woman in the world. When I try to tell my husband how I hate to clean around him, he says, "Quit nagging me." What should I do?

BOTHERED: DEAR ABBY: The next time you tell your husband how you "hate to clean around him," listen to yourself. Do you come over like a loving, slightly "helpless" housewife enlisting his cooperation? Or do you sound more like a whining, impatient shrew whose demands have put him on the defensive? Then, perhaps you can answer your own question.

DEAR ABBY: Don't give up on your campaign against those god-awful, ugly, clumsy shoes that women are supposed to wear this season.

My husband has been in the retail shoe business for many years, and he tells me that the shoes he has to show his customers now are the most unflattering he has ever seen. In fact, he says that he actually has to turn his back whenever he shows these clodhoppers to the lady customers.

Abby, no woman I've talked to likes these shoes, but they buy them because there is nothing else to buy.

The manufacturers get by with them because so few women take the trouble to complain; they feel somebody else should do the complaining. If all the women who read this letter object to being shifted from needle toe, foot-crippling styles to these clodhopper shoes, the manufacturers would stop this fad of built-in obsolescence.

Tell women who are unhappy with shoe styles to write to the National Shoe Retailers Association, 200 Madison Avenue, New York, New York 10016. Otherwise the shoes next year will be so unflattering you wouldn't be able to tell the men's shoes from the women's. Do not use my name or my husband will kill me.

It's In The Stars

("The wise man controls his destiny... astrology points the way.")

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, JANUARY 29, 1970

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Concern with money which belongs to another is highlighted. Don't permit tension to jar logic. Do what you know is right. Scared money could result in loss. Relax and live.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Accent on public relations. Build bridges which could make future more secure. One connected with law could prove beneficial influence. Stop being afraid.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Change, improved communications indicated. Obtain hint from Taurus message. Avoid excess. Remember resolutions concerning exercise, diet and general health.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Good lunar aspect today coincides with creative endeavors. Member of the opposite sex pays meaningful compliment. Leave details to others. This is your day to imprint your personal style.

LEO (July 23-August 22): Avoid self-deception. You can be happier if you face situation as it actually exists. Home, property, basic values are accentuated. Don't attempt to skip essentials.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): You can make constructive contacts with neighbors, relatives. A positive—and profitable—agreement could result. Sense of humor at supposed crucial moment works wonders.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): Previous plans, efforts begin to pay dividends. Finish a project. Try not to leave loose ends. Greater recognition due. Your talents, products have wider appeal.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): Be independent in thought, action. Break ground to new territory. Highlight originality. Cycle high; your judgment, intuition are sharpened. Invest in your own abilities.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): Be aware of need for privacy. Some find it impossible to be discreet about your affairs. Know this and respond accordingly. Don't wear your heart on sleeve.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): Accent on appreciation received from friends. You can have fun tonight—and you deserve it. Obtain hint from Cancer message.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): Spotlight on prestige, standing in community. Your desire to tear down and rebuild is basically constructive. Special assignment could result in read advancement.

PISCES (February 19-March 20): Good lunar aspect today coincides with long-range plans, journeys, studies and publishing. Be selective. Time your moves. Make inquiries. Look ahead. Don't be caught off guard.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are intuitive. You are a natural teacher. You begin to collect past debts. Some around you are ultra-sensitive. Strive for mature understanding.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

PIMPLES: (Q.) How can you say most girls are derelict to date a good-looking clear-faced boy? You should have sympathy for us guys with acne. I have pimples and it kills me. It's murder when I want to go on a date.

It's not fair, I mean, when you swear off chocolate, sweet drinks, greasy foods, and other rich stuff, and still get acne, you ask God: Why me?—Pimples in Maryland.

(A.) I didn't say exactly what you said I said, but am happy to print your protest. We all have crosses to bear. Some are worse than others. We must learn to endure temporary, even permanent disabilities with grace.

Acne is seldom permanent. A teen-ager who follows the rules of sanitation and sane eating usually outgrows it. I hope you do, at the earliest possible moment.

GOOD GRADES: (Q.) I am in the eighth grade and since I started to school I haven't made anything less than a B on my report card. I wish my mother and father would tell me once in a while they are proud of me. But they don't say a thing.

Maybe if I started making D's and F's they would appreciate it.—Judy in Washington, D.C.

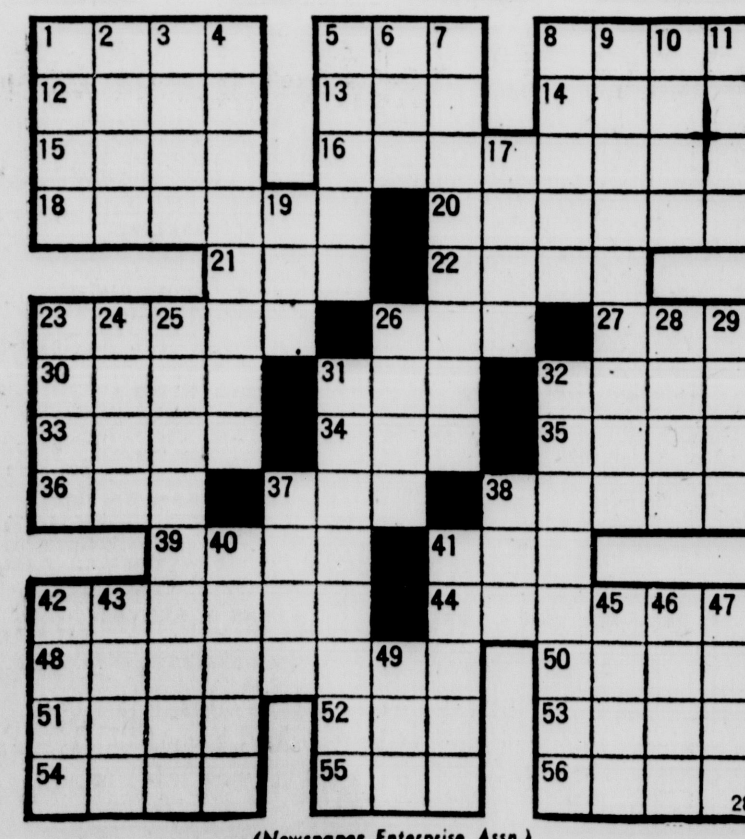

(A.) It is natural to want recognition for good grades. Let your parents know you'd like to get a little praise now and then for your good work. I believe they'll take the hint. If, however, they don't come through with an occasional pat on the back, don't let it sacrifice your good grades to "teach them a lesson." If you did, you'd be the one to suffer.

Maybe other parents will see this and realize that they, too, may need to pass a little praise around.

(Want personal answers to your questions? Write to Jean Adams, Box 2402, Houston, Texas 77001. Only letters that include a stamped, self-addressed envelope will be answered.)

A Timely School Special

NEW YORK AP — CBS news number of recent school bond issues rejected by voters.

Fremont's story was rather heartening. It rallied around in the emergency, finally voting the levy and paying its property taxes in advance to accumulate immediate funds.

Almost glossed over was the reason behind the resistance of many of the voters—steadily increased property taxes and, as one woman snapped, a feeling that no efforts were made to economize.

Schorr noted that 10 Ohio communities did suspend class sessions because of a lack of funds, taxpayers' in noting the large interviews with public officials on video an interesting new dimension of handling the education emergency. Generally, efforts are in the direction of taking the major burden off local property tax and having states pay the school tax.

Those children of all ages who love the circus—even the televised kind—had their annual sampling Tuesday night of the Greatest Show on Earth, with the addition of instant replays in slow motion.

The NBC special showing highlights of Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus, which had all the usual treats—high flying acts, elephants, big cats, clowns, acrobats, dancing bears and colorful processions. And cameramen used that familiar football technique to show, in slow motion, a double flip off a trapeze, a woman jumping from a 30-foot-high platform into the arms of her partners and two World, and just about every human cannon ball flying show on ABC's Friday night across the auditorium. It proschedule.

Programs whose futures appear to be dubious include CBS' "To Rome with Love" and "Get Smart"; NBC's "I Dream of Jeannie" and "Bracken's World," and just about every human cannon ball flying show on ABC's Friday night across the auditorium. It proschedule.

The GE Strike — A Break May Be Near

NEW YORK (UPI)—Federal mediators were hopeful today a break was near in the 94-day-old nationwide strike against the General Electric Co.

J. Curtis Counts, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, conducted a series of talks Tuesday with company and union officials which prompted reports an agreement may be near.

"The issues are being narrowed, although we still have problems," a spokesman for Counts said. Union and company officials had no comment.

A major stumbling block in the talks has been the unions' demand of a full cost-of-living adjustment after the first year of the contract. The unions have asked for a 16-month contract, while the company has proposed three years.

The company's last publicly released offer, made Dec. 6, called for a 20 to 45 cents an hour wage increase in the first year of the contract. Increases of two to five percent, depending on the cost of living index, were proposed for the remaining two years.

The International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) and the United Electrical Workers (UE) have been the major bargaining powers for the coalition of 13 unions involved in the strike that began Oct. 27. More than 147,000 workers at 280 plants in 33 states have been off the job.

Counts joined the mediation effort three weeks ago at the request of Labor Secretary George P. Schultz. The labor secretary told newsmen Tuesday there "has been a great deal of movement, a back and forth exchange in the talks" but said there were "some things still to be resolved."

Meanwhile, the AP reports that as the strike enters its fourth month, there reportedly has been only a trickle of back-to-work sentiment, but a widening ripple of fringe economic effects and a general belt tightening by 130,000 idle production workers. Salary losses have mounted into the tens of millions of dollars.

"People are buying cheaper cuts of meat, thinner slices, stretching as much as they can," said Bud Fitzer, manager of a supermarket in Louisville, Ky., where GE wage losses are estimated at $26 million.

Pickets in Louisville still get free bean soup every morning from Frank Davis, who has a restaurant near the plant. But he said the strike is costing him $200 a day in business losses.

Limited back to work action was reported in Chicago, Lake-side, Vt., and Ontario, Calif. But the vast majority of GE strikers apparently were sticking with the walkout.

The strikers were getting by in most cases with part-time jobs, savings, credit, strike benefits, unemployment insurance payments or welfare assistance.

About 1,100 workers at the Owensboro, Ky., GE plant are not on strike, but are being laid off for lack of materials. Lay-offs in related industries were reported in Syracuse, N.Y., and Albuquerque, N.M.

A labor-backed national boycott of GE products appeared to have elicited a questionable response, at least in most areas surveyed by The Associated Press. However, some union officials claimed it is being felt by the nation's fourth largest industrial giant.

GE officials have cited several instances during the strike in which they say radical groups—most frequently the Students for a Democratic Society—have been welcomed on picket lines by strikers. However, union officials have insisted that where such groups were spotted strikers have ejected them from picket lines.

The strike of 12 unions began Oct. 26, spearheaded by the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers and the independent United Electrical Workers. They rejected a company offer of a 20 cents an hour wage increase in the first year of a three-year contract, with wage reopeners in each subsequent year. Wages averaged $3.25 an hour.

Most GE plants in 135 cities remained open with nonunion employees. But production was all but halted in most of them.

In Washington, as it has since the strike began, the Pentagon declined to discuss effects of the walkout on military materiel.

However, at GE's nuclear energy division in San Jose, Calif., 330 of 475 union employees were reported on the job, augmented by 2,500 nonunion workers. The company called production normal—the unions disagreed.

An AFL-CIO spokesman estimated that about 180 Ontario, Calif., GE employees have crossed picket lines and gone back to work, although he said 2,000 to 2,500 remain on strike in the Los Angeles area.

William Grotz, a spokesman for Hot Point, which has three GE subsidiary plants in the Chicago area, said 1,200 hourly workers have returned to their jobs since December—about one-third of the normal work force.

And the Lakeside, Vt., plant, a Defense Department supplier, said 1,081 out of 1,552 IUE employees are at work, a 30 per cent increase over the 40 per cent who originally refused to join in the walkout.

Some union officials claimed support for the national boycott of GE products organized last November by the AFL-CIO.

However, a spokesman for the medium-price range May Co. of Los Angeles, said: "If anything, it's been just the opposite. It seems when things get scarce or may become scarce, the people buy more. We're almost completely out of GE products now, but we aren't hurting because we have other lines. GE is probably suffering though."

One Key Deficiency Obstacle

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — An $82.7 million deficiency budget bill, $11 million less than Governor Rockefeller asked for, was headed for approval in the state legislature today.

The main obstacle to passage was a proposal by minority Democrats for a $58 million emergency loan program to reduce some fares on New York City buses and subways and on the Long Island Rail Road.

Senate Minority Leader Joseph Zaretzki and his Assembly counterpart, Stanley Steingut, proposed Tuesday that the state advance enough money to eliminate double fares on buses and subways by allowing unlimited transfers. At present, they said, 460,000 people pay a double fare every day because they have to use both a bus and subway to get to work. The loan would wipe out the need for any fare increase this year on the railroad.

Steingut said he was hopeful the amendment would pass "since Republicans from Long Island and New York City will be hard pressed to vote against a measure so directly benefiting people in their home communities."

The deficiency budget, which rounds out state spending for the 1969-70 fiscal year ending March 31, is smaller than last year's record $229 million deficiency bill. It pushes 1969 - 70 spending to $6.5 billion.

Main features of the deficiency measure are $18.1 million for state purposes, $21.8 million for local assistance and $37.3 million for capital construction.

Originally the governor asked $47.3 million for capital construction but the fiscal chiefs of the legislature cut $10 million earmarked for liberal arts buildings at Stony Brook.

Untouched was a $9 million item for medical school buildings at State University at Stony Brook to permit opening of the health science center in September 1970.

Rockefeller asked the legislature for $15 million for the school lunch program, two-thirds of which would go to New York City.

A $10 million community college aid revision plus $6.6 million to meet state aid for secondary and elementary school needs were recommended.

The governor also asked $3.7 million be advanced for the Long Island Rail Road, far below what Democrats want.

Nigeria to Expell Rebel Aid Workers

LAGOS (UPI)—The Nigerian government went ahead today with plans to expel Roman Catholic and other relief workers accused of aiding rebel Biafrans during the 30-month civil war.

The first of 32 Catholic missionaries and nuns rounded up and held in Port Harcourt after the fall of the former secessionist state began arriving in Lagos on the way home.

At least 75 persons, all but five of them Irish, fall into the federal category of foreigners accused of "helping the rebels and prolonging the war."

The Nigerian leader, Gen. Yakubu Gowon, has vowed to expel them all eventually, letting some stay for the time being if they are providing services vital to the survival of war refugees.

Even as the first of the accused relief workers were coming out of the former war zone, an international team of military observers was going back in to take its third look into reports that conquering federal troops were pillaging what once was Biafra.

The five-nation team, minus the Canadian representative, went back Tuesday after it was unable to agree unanimously on a report on the conditions in the ravaged area and on the status of relief operations.

Nigeria meantime distributed more Red Cross communiques spelling out the relief steps it is taking, saying there are 13,000 tons of food available for distribution to war refugees.

Marines Head Home

SAIGON (UPI)—More than 500 U.S. Marines in jungle fatigues boarded a troop ship at Da Nang today for home, the vanguard of 50,000 Americans leaving Vietnam under President Nixon's latest withdrawal.

They sailed as military spokesmen said combat involving American forces was at its lowest point since Jan. 1, but said the command saw no significance in the comparative lull.

The Marines of the 3rd Amphibious Tractor Battalion and the 1st Marine Air Wing sailed aboard the USS Ogden for a three-week voyage to San Diego. They were the first of 3,000 Marines who will leave Vietnam over the next five days.

Most of the Marines were leaving South Vietnam's northern quarter, known as I Corps, where Viet Cong and North Vietnamese have been undertaking what U.S. sources say are preparations for a pre-Lunar New Year offensive.

Another Copter Downed

One American was killed and another wounded Tuesday night when Communist gunfire downed a helicopter 16 miles northwest of Hue. Five other Americans were wounded in 17 overnight shelling.

U.S. Marine jet fighter-bomber crews, helicopter gunships and artillerymen killed at least 23 Communist troops in three engagements Tuesday near An Hoa, 352 miles northeast of Saigon, spokesmen said.

'Jock' — Going Well

CLEVELAND (UPI) — U.S. Attorney Robert B. Krupansky says "things are proceeding well" at the federal grand jury investigation into the murders of United Mine Workers official Joseph A. "Jock" Yablonski and his wife and daughter.

The jury, which heard seven witnesses Tuesday, continues its investigation today. Two of Tuesday's witnesses were Yablonski's two surviving sons, Kenneth, of Washington, Pa., and Joseph, of Washington, D.C.

Since the proceedings are closed, few details other than Krupansky's remark that "things are proceeding well" were forthcoming.

It was reported that Kenneth Yablonski may have met Paul E. Gilly, one of three men charged with the murders, when Gilly called at the family home Dec. 18 asking for the elder Yablonski's help in obtaining a job. The report was not confirmed.

"Gentlemen, we won't have any comments," Kenneth said as he and his brother left the courtroom.

Gilly, 37, Aubran Martin, 23; and Claude Vealey, 26, all of Cleveland, were charged with the killings last week.

Most of the other witnesses Tuesday were friends or relatives of Gilly, including his wife Annette and a sister-in-law who said he was "too nice a guy" to commit such a crime.
